ARLINGTON HEIGHTS ADOPTS MODERN BUILDING CODE

Yule gift coupons at Arlington stores Saturday

Arlington Heights merchants not content to just furnish a free $1,000 circus to their patrons on November 26, will also give away an estimated $500 in Christmas gifts the five Saturdays preceding Christmas.

Announcement of the out door circus acts and parade appeared in a recent issue of this paper. Practically every business house is cooperating in the free show and gift giving.

The date of the circus is November 26, marking the opening of the Christmas buying season in the Arlington area. The circus, with trained dogs, ponies and other acts, including Santa himself, is coming with an old fashion circus callopie.

The prizes will be given away at five o'clock each Saturday evening. Coupons are free and are available at stores displaying "participation" signs in their windows.

Senior class to present 'Seventeenth Summer' at high school Nov. 18, 19

"Seventeenth Summer," a three-act comedy by Maureen Daly, will be presented by the senior class of Arlington Heights high school November 18 and 19.

Bonnie Peterson plays the lead part of the lovable seventeen-year old Angie Morrow, whose romance with Jack Duluth, played by Bernard Brock, forms the hilarious plot. Barbara Tichy furnishes a lot of comedy as Kitty, an impish ten-year old, who does a good job of getting in her father's hair. Nan McCarthy plays the role of Mrs. Morrow, who tries to keep peace in the family and calm the fevered spirits of her husband, played by Dave Meineke.

Jeannine Burnier interprets Lorraine, the would-be sophisticated sister, while Jane Rowles plays the older sister, attractive and poised. Other members of the cast are Augie Krause, Margaret's good-natured young fiancé; Roger Kennedy, a supercilious young city-slicker; Ila Miller, an attractive but gossip girl; Mary Lou Sander, a fascinating but shallow young lady; Dave Kurtz, Margaret's gaudy "steady"; and Bob N. Arnold, a smooth, handsome trouble-maker.

Miss Patricia Potts, faculty director, and Norma Kautz, student director, prophesy that the seniors will stage a real triumph with their talented and clever interpretations.

Arlington accepts water mains in Eastwood built at cost of developer

Eastwood Ranch Estates, Inc., developers of an area in the northeastern part of Arlington Heights, solved its water supply problem by construction of water mains at its own cost, under the direction and with the approval of the village engineers.

Arlington Heights village board Monday evening passed an ordinance accepting the work and providing that any property owner, except those in Eastwood Estates shall pay $2.28 per linear foot before he will have the right to make application for water permit.

Rev. Gall, first pastor of St. James, dies

Rev. Peter F. Gall, the first pastor of St. James Catholic church, Arlington Heights, died November 8. He was pastor of St. James from 1920 to 1930. At the time of his death, Rev. Gall was serving as chaplain of Lewis Memorial hospital in Chicago.

Funeral services will be held November 11, at 10:30 a.m., at St. Augustine church, 5045 S. Laflin, Chicago. Rev. Gall will lie in state at 1503 W. 51st st., Chicago, until 3 o'clock November 10. He will then be moved to the church, where he will lie in state until the time of the service. Interment St. Mary's cemetery.

POST OFFICE CLOSED NOVEMBER 11

The Arlington Heights post office will be closed all day Armistice day, November 11. The lobby will be open, but there will be no window service or deliveries.

Cornelia Otis Skinner opens lecture series this Sunday

Cornelia Otis Skinner, world-renowned author, playwright, actress and producer, after starring in three successful plays, has returned this season to the solo performances that won her first fame, "Monologue Character Sketches."

The Sunday Evening Lecture Series, in its fourth successful year under the auspices of the Arlington Heights Woman's club is proud to bring Miss Skinner to Arlington Heights for their first program of the 1949-50 season this Sunday, at 8 p. m., in the Arlington Heights Township high school auditorium.

SEASON tickets for the series are $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for students and general admission tickets are $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for students. Tickets may be purchased at the door or through Mrs. J. A. Lindstrom, ticket chairman, 1805-W.

Because the most successful performances are achieved with the mood of each audience in mind, Miss Skinner's sketches will be chosen and announced by the actress herself at the time of the performance. These character sketches are not recitations, but complete dramatic productions. They are written by the actress herself and are released, costumed and produced with the precision of a conventional play.

MISS SKINNER's program is one in a series which she is presenting while on tour all over the country. Last year was the first that she has devoted to these solo performances since 1942, although she continued to give them for camp, hospital and canteen shows throughout the war. Since then, her theatrical activities have included a long

Blame clerical errors for incorrect listings of delinquent taxes

Complaints have reached Paddock Publications that there were included in the recent publication of delinquent tax payers names of owners who hold receipts for 1948 taxes.

William Annen, local tax collector, reports that such clerical errors on the part of the office of the county treasurer are not unusual. Since the publication two weeks ago the delinquent tax list of Wheeling township, Mr. Annen has received a number of such complaints.

The majority of them were instances where he received the taxes after the books were closed. Such remittances were turned over by him to the county treasurer. He did not personally credit the items on the tax books.

A report was made at the last meeting of the Scarsdale Property Owners association that in some instances owners have paid taxes on the wrong property. It was suggested that tax receipts be compared with deeds.

'Bundle Days' at public schools to aid needy children at home, abroad

Save-the-Children "Bundle Days" drive to collect serviceable, used clothing will be launched in the Arlington Heights public schools November 17 and 18, school superintendent Ralph Clabaugh announced today.

The drive, which is part of the Eighth National Children's Clothing Crusade conducted under the auspices of a national committee of school superintendents, will last for two days. Clothing obtained will be distributed by the Save the Children Federation in its program of assistance to children in isolated rural areas of the United States and in six European countries.

REPORTING on a recent tour of the war-depleted areas of Europe, Dr. Charles R. Joy, European commissioner of the Federation, says:

"There are still thousands of children whose only clothing is tattered rags; who are barefoot or wearing nameless things tied to their feet. Babies still come into the world to be wrapped in paper, straw, grain or sugar bags—whatever rags their mothers can find. I have seen these children, and I know that in Greece alone there are more than a million indigent people among them more than 300,000 orphans. Recovery is on the way, but the need is still great."

Clothing collected by the Federation is distributed abroad for the relief of such children in

New York and road engagement in Lillian Hellman's "The Searching Wind," a leading part in the Somerset Maugham-Guy Bolton "Theatre," and the revival of Oscar Wilde's "Lady Windermere's Fan," in which she appeared for two full seasons. Also, during the filming in Hollywood of her best seller—"Our Hearts Were Young and Gay," Miss Skinner appeared in the picture "The Uninvited."

The lecture committee includes, in addition to Mrs. Lindstrom, Mrs. William E. Sauer, chairman, Mrs. Milton Haase, Mrs. F. C. Schmoeyer, Mrs. C. A. Hendrickson, Mrs. Adolf Wiegand and Miss Shirley Sanders. Members of the Junior Woman's club who will usher, are as follows: Peggy McCurdie, Jackie Jahrling, Elaine Allison, Mrs. Miriam Goodin and Shirley Sanders.

Chamber secretary resigns; accepts Woodstock job

Board of directors of Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce were advised last week that their secretary, Don Boudreau, had resigned to accept a similar position at Woodstock. Mr. Boudreau, had to start his work in Arlington Heights from scratch. Woodstock has a going Chamber of Commerce. His work there will be more administrative, which is the main reason he took the new job.

Don has been a busy man the last two weeks on the Arlington job. He had the responsibility of selling the free Christmas circus to business men. He has done a good job and has promised to look in on us on November 26 and join in the fun.

Paul Schwengels, of Berlin, Wis., has been hired by the board of directors to fill the Boudreau vacancy. He is leaving a position with the Wisconsin Power & Light Co. to enter Chamber of Commerce work to which he has given considerable study. He will report on the job November 21.

IN AMERICA clothing is distributed in needy rural areas of eight Southern and Southwestern States and on the Navajo Indian Reservation, in which the Federation operates its sponsored school program.

Mrs. Gordon S. White, director of the Federation's New York Workroom, which packs all Bundle Day clothing sent overseas, and much of that for domestic use, has some pointers for clothing givers who want to be sure their clothing will do the most good:

Most important is warm clothing—heavy underwear, wool skirts, suits, sweaters and coats. Bundle Day clothing goes to people whose first need is warmth—not style. If the clothing is warm, even adult sizes can be cut down and gratefully used.

CHILDREN'S SHOES are next in importance. Even though scuffed, America's outgrown shoes still have miles of use left in them. Here again, some adult sizes can be used. But don't give high-heeled women's shoes! They just aren't suitable.

Babies' clothing is in constant demand. Diapers, crib-blankets, night-shirts, warm sweaters and undershirts are needed.

Mrs. White stressed the importance of having all gifts clean and in as good repair as possible.

Plan to observe Armistice day in Arlington

Full military honors will be accorded at the Arlington Heights village flag pole, corner Dunton and Davis sts., in observance of Armistice day this Friday.

PARTICIPATING in the affair will be the Arlington Heights American Legion, VFW, Illinois National Guard and Navy officials. They will meet at 10 a. m. at the armory, Dunton and Eastman sts., and will step off at 10:45 a. m. marching to the village flag pole.

Rev. Edwin I. Stevens, South church, Mount Prospect, will open the service with a prayer. The principal address of the event will be delivered by Ray Ten Hagen, Chief Boilerman, U. S. Navy.

CHIEF TEN HAGEN, now stationed at the Navy Recruiting station, Chicago, has spoken before many civic organizations, and recently completed a speech tour of the Chicago Public high schools in connection with Navy recruiting. A man with many experiences, Chief Ten Hagen has been in the Navy 15 years. Of the many ships and shore stations he has served on, his most memorable was the U. S. S. Saratoga.

All business men and private citizens of Arlington Heights are urged to display their American flag on Armistice day.

5 Roselle firemen hurt in smashup

Five Roselle firemen and a truck driver were injured when their vehicles collided Saturday at Lake st. and Bloomingdale rd., Bloomingdale. It was one of the worst accidents at the intersection in a long time.

THE INJURED firemen were: William J. Clucas, 33, 124 Howard st.; Joseph P. Boudreau, 48, 16 S. Prospect, co-owner of Pabich Motor Sales; Chester Anderson, 29, 145 W. Chicago ave., a telephone repairman; Ernest Haberkamp, 44, 49 W. Maple, a cement contractor; and Harry Benhart, 49, 49 E. Chicago ave., operator of Benhart's tavern.

The injured truck driver was Jack Akins, 40, Rockford, who was driving his tractor and trailer truck west on Lake st. when the collision occurred. The truck was owned by the Auto Transport Co., Detroit.

THE FIRE TRUCK, which is the property of the Roselle Rural Fire Protection league, was being driven south on Bloomingdale rd. by Benhart.

The trailer truck hit the fire truck about the middle of the driver's side. The impact turned the fire truck completely over onto its roof, badly smashing the cab.

In the cab at the time of the accident with Benhart was Ray Karner, 31, a state policeman who also was a member of the Volunteer Fire department. Oddly enough these two men got off with the slightest injuries. Karner was only shaken up while Benhart sustained a bruised shoulder.

The other firemen, thrown clear of the wreck, all sustained injuries when they hit the street.

Reports as to which driver had the right of way have been rather inconclusive. It is believed that both drivers claimed they had the green light. The fire department was answering a prairie fire call near Addison. After the accident the Addison firemen were notified of the blaze and they extinguished the fire.

Gets caught going through stop sign; police find stolen auto

Arlington Heights police picked up an 18 year old youth for going through a stop sign at Evergreen and Davis sts. Monday night and found out later that he was driving a stolen auto.

The boy, Wayne F. Hansen of 1644 California ave., Chicago, had stolen the 1949 4-door Chevrolet Saturday night in Chicago, according to police records. The Heights police turned him over to Chicago authorities, who were looking for the stolen auto.

Hansen told police that he had a key in his pocket and went along the street trying all the cars until he found one that it fit.

Igor Gorin sings here tonight

Igor Gorin, one of the top performers in concert, opera and radio field, will appear tonight on the first program of the Arlington Heights Community Concert association at the high school, 8:15 p. m.

The young singing-actor has appeared on the Firestone Hour, Harvest of Stars, RCA Victor and many other radio programs. In the past few seasons grand opera has demanded more of his time. Only members of the Community Concert association may attend the concert.

School officials to attend conference in Missouri

R. E. Clabaugh, superintendent of public schools in Arlington Heights, N. M. Lattot, president of the school board, and M. L. Kurtz and Carl Ewert, school board members, will attend the annual joint conference of school administrators and boards in St. Louis, Missouri, November 13-15.

There will be various group discussions dealing on the study of buildings, procedures, value of special consultants, what's new in teacher training, and various other topics of value to today's school.

Henry Toy, Jr., Executive Secretary of the National Citizens Commission for Public Schools, will be the main speaker at the event.

High school board to let contracts for school addition

Arlington Heights high school board expects to let contracts soon for the $985,000 addition. Nearly a hundred bids were opened October 31 from separate trades and general contractors.

THE GRAND total exceeded the estimate of the architect and the authorized bond issue. In place of rejecting all bids the architect and building committee began cutting out the "doodads" which were nice to look at but which did not add to the usefulness of the building.

The profit of a general contractor was also eliminated by dealing directly with the various trades of which there are scores.

FINAL figures are not yet ready, but the board expects to officially accept the desired bids before deadline of November 30.

The architect, C. M. Teutsch, is a local resident and the board feels that his experience and reputation insures a perfect job for the high school district.

Hand caught in corn picker

Walter Guenther of Palatine was the victim of a bad accident Sunday morning when he got his hand caught in a corn picker, necessitating the amputation of three fingers.

He was operating the machine on the Reese farm near Palatine when the accident occurred. His call for help was heard by passing motorists and Dr. C. D. Starck was called to the scene.

Guenther was taken to the Palatine hospital suffering from severe shock. His thumb was not caught in the picker and it is hoped that the remaining finger will also be saved.

KIWANIANS TO ENTERTAIN LADIES THURSDAY NIGHT

Members of Arlington Heights Kiwanis club will entertain their ladies this Thursday night at Simons. Following a 6:30 dinner there will be games followed by dancing.

Lifts barriers to moderate priced housing and new bldg. methods

Arlington Heights village board took the first step Monday evening in the liberalization of its building code. As a basis for modernization of building regulations, the board adopted the Suburban Building Regulations for Residences, as formulated by the Suburban Building Officials Conference.

Its adoption by Arlington opens the door to modern safe housing.

Hugo J. Thal, village attorney advised the board that the adoption of standard code, faulty as it may be in some things, laid the foundation to an elastic code. The obsolete code in effect in so many municipalities does not recognize and makes no provision for new "discoveries" in safe building by recognized architects and engineers.

The board accepted Mr. Thal's suggestion and unanimously approved the code machinery that is expected to permit subsequent approval of home building that is not permitted under present village ordinances.

THE OLD CODE was adopted in 1927-22 years ago. There have been a lot of changes in building procedure since then.

Every time that "exceptions" were granted there was usually a drawn-out battle between the builder and the municipal authorities, who were as much in the dark as to exactly what would be permitted as were builders and contractors.

A few steps in code modernization had been taken by Mt. Prospect and a few other towns, but they were feeble steps and it is expected that all villages in Cook County will follow the lead of Cook County and larger municipalities in accepting a code that will not make every variation permit an illegal act against existing building laws of the municipality.

Prior to the adoption of the standard code Arlington Heights village board had spent many hours studying desired amendments, which in reality make the new code more stringent. There can be no flood of cheaply constructed homes, but new building materials and methods of construction can be used which will save the home builder a lot of unnecessary costs.

The major part of the new code covers technical building matters, that would be uninteresting reading to many but every person can understand the meaning of space requirements and minimum floor areas. Here are a few of them: (The figures are minimum square ft. area)

Living, dining and cooking	250
in one room	200
Living only, cooking and dining in other room	160
Kitchen, cooking only	80
Major bedroom	120
Additional habitable rooms	100
Utility room in basement—less dwellings	100

The new code also provides minimum areas for closets, bath rooms, and storage spaces, as follows:

Minimum house areas are proposed:
1-story	780 sq. ft.
1½-story	720 sq. ft.
2-story	576 sq. ft.

THE ELASTICITY of the new code is provided by a special section which gives the village board and the building committee authority to accept materials and methods not specified therein, upon submission of evidence that their performance in use will be at least equivalent to that of materials and methods specified therein.

That evidence may include adequate reports and test data from a recognized testing laboratory or proven and authoritative service records, made in accordance with well established principles of mechanics.

Arlington Heights village board will meet next week to pass upon the first of the proposed amendments or exceptions to the adopted code.

Following the code adoption a permit was issued to Oscar Johnson for erection of a pre-cut home. Future permits for such construction will be withheld until after the completion of the Johnson house and an inspection can be made.

CONSTRUCTION of Lustron homes will be permissible, but are restricted as to location by this paragraph: "homes of special construction that are not applicable to this building code, but have been approved for building permits are specifically subject to approval by the building committee as to location and maximum of such homes within the village."

Paul Taege, Arlington Heights building commissioner, has associated with him on the general committee Earl G. Iversen, well known builder and contractor and Herman G. Gaul, architect. They have studied thoroughly some of the plans submitted for homes other than the orthodox type.

There will be no blanket approval of new design homes, but those that are approved must meet the strength and safety provisions of the new code.

"Safety and permanency will be the first requisite of any residence that receives approval of the municipality," states Mayor Goedke.

GRASS FIRE COSTS VILLAGE CLOSE TO FIFTY DOLLARS

A grass fire in a vacant lot in back of 402 S. State rd., Arlington Heights cost the village between $45 and $50 Tuesday afternoon.

The local department was summoned when the fire, started by an unknown person, or persons, got out of control and threatened neighboring buildings.

A second fire called the department out at 5 p. m. Wednesday. They traveled to the Harold A. Witt home at 1138 N. Patton ave., Sherwood, where an auto in the garage had caught fire, due to a shorted horn.

IT WON'T HAPPEN AGAIN

From now on, the police department will patrol Arlington Heights Township high school on its nightly rounds. Police Chief Carl Skoog and Principal LeRoy J. Knoepfel are cooperating in preventing the possibility of future burglaries and have provided master keys to the high school for the police department, who will now be able to enter the high school and check up if they see any signs of prowlers or mischief.

Burglars entered the high school building October 22 and damaged the vault in the principal's office in order to make way with the money boxes.

Building trades rebuild home for Arlington fire victims

The family of Louis Luprich will soon be able to move into their new home on North Belmont, Arlington Heights. Their original home burned soon after it was finished. Local trades and material firms came to the relief. Benefits were also held. Story on page 4.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES
The subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 13, will be: "MORTALS AND IMMORTALS" The Golden Text is:
"They which are the children of the flesh, these are not the children of God" (Rom. 8: 8).
Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon, the following are from the Bible:
"Except a man be born of water and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God. That which is born of the flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit. . . . The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God" (John 3: 5, 6; Rom. 8: 16).
The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:
"Immortals, or God's children in divine Science, are one harmonious family; but mortals, or the 'children of men' in material sense, are discordant and of times false brethren. . . . Immortal man was and is God's image or idea, even the infinite expression of infinite Mind, and immortal man is coexistent and coeternal with that Mind. . . . The Science of being furnishes the rule of perfection, and brings immortality to light. God and man are not the same, but in the order of divine Science, God and man co-exist and are eternal" (pp. 444, 336).

Mr. and Mrs. Van A. Gatewood of Burbank, Cal., announce the engagement of their daughter, Janet, to Bowman H. Evans, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Evans, 2235 Center st., Northbrook, formerly of Arlington Heights.

The wedding will take place December 16, at the Wee Kirk O' the Heather at Glendale, California.

County budget to boost 1949 taxes

As Cook county taxpayers have been suspecting, their bills will probably go up next year. This was virtually assured when the 1950 county budget was estimated by the comptroller and auditor this week. The proposed figure is $36,353,227.

The estimate for 1950 operating expenses is the highest yet on record, exceeding the $34,214,171 actual appropriation made for 1949 by more than $2 million.

Election costs next year are the largest single contributory cause to the increase, as about $2 million is earmarked to cover the special cost. Others include $100,000 more for municipal court costs; $191,000 for the new Zoning and Building Bureau and $200,000 for the Cook County School of Nursing.

The county expects to finish this year with a surplus of $1,055,227. The fiscal year ends November 30th.

The preliminary budget estimates are submitted to the County Board, according to law, about the first of November each year. County Clerk Michael J. Flynn, acting as the comptroller, his deputy, Alvin L. Weber, and County Auditor Lee J. Howard prepared the estimate after receiving reports from some 38 departments, offices and special sections. They pared these figures down to the $36.3 million sum from an original total of over $38 million.

Extensive hearings with each department will follow throughout the latter part of November, and a final appropriations bill for next year is expected to be passed about Christmas time.

St. John's choir to give Thanksgiving musicale

The choir of St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church, Arlington Heights, will present a Thanksgiving musicale in the church sanctuary November 20, at 7:45 p. m.

The program will include special Thanksgiving anthems by the three choirs, organ numbers and numbers by guest soloists. A more detailed program will be announced next week. The public is invited to attend.

"One Foot"

The foot as an English unit of measurement was at first based on the actual length of the human foot. Before the unit was standardized at a length of 12 inches, The World Book encyclopedia says it varied from about 12 inches to nearly twice that length.

Troop 7, consisting of the seventh and eighth grade girls of the North school, held a box social at the field house November 7. Each girl invited a boy to share the lunch in her pretty box. Girl Scout Delights were served for dessert.

The troop's leader, Mrs. Scheske, and the co-leader, Mrs. Ford, were assisted by Mrs. March, Mrs. Speers and Mrs. Baumann in organizing and chaperoning the party. Mr. and Mrs. Bressner taught the group how to square dance, and Mr. Schelling played the accordion and did the calling.

There was also ballroom dancing, and games were played. The troop wishes to thank Mrs. Scheske and all the helpful mothers who helped make the party a success.

Volunteer workers, contributions restore home for fire victims

Louis Luprich and his family of Arlington Heights, whose home and furnishings burned to the ground last March, will move into their rebuilt home within the next two weeks. Since the fire the Luprichs have been staying with Mr. Luprich's mother and brother on N. Chestnut ave.

The nearly completed home is pictured with some of the volunteer workers putting on the final touches. Other volunteer workers are pictured with the Luprich family, center, which consists of Mr. and Mrs. Luprich and their two children.

IMMEDIATELY after the fire a committee was formed consisting of Father Richard Rosemeyer of St. James church, William Andrews, Walter Jacobs, William McKaig and Siegel Ruckman. Appeals for assistance were made from the pulpit at St. James church and thru the columns of the Paddock Publications. Arlington Heights residents, school children, clubs, organizations and others from near and far promptly responded with contributions of money, clothing, furniture and other necessities which greatly alleviated the Luprich family sufferings.

Merle Guild Post No. 208 of The American Legion and their Auxiliary promptly ran a benefit dance at the Legion home, with contributions of dance merchandise from local business men which helped greatly in a monetary way.

Sylvester Greschner of the Greschner Electric Service, 112 N. Pine Ave., Arlington Heights and Commander of the local V. F. W. Post did the electrical work gratis with William McKaig and William O'Connell.

STANLEY LUCZAK, residing on S. State rd., near Rt. 58, Arlington Heights and a co-owner of Luczak Bros. Plastering Contractors, 3330 N. Drake Ave., Chicago, volunteered to do the plastering and stuccoing. This was accomplished last Saturday through the cooperation of the following employees of the Luczak Bros. organization who performed their services gratis: Frank Luczak, Phil Luczak, Walter Luczak, Leo Natzke, Stanley Luczak, Ed Jobin, Norbert Paprocke, Gus Beteljevski, Ted Ryzek, John Ryzek and Leo Laducini.

William Riebe, 1315 N. Belmont ave., Arlington Heights, volunteered to do the painting gratis. The members of the Committee and many neighbors, friends and volunteers also did manual work gratis to help reduce the cost of construction.

William Weide, carpenter-contractor of Palatine and Otto Stier, mason contractor of Arlington Heights, did the construction work for a nominal consideration.

TO ALL clubs and organizations, schools and their officials, school children, contributors, helpers, workers, electricians, Honorable Mayor Albert Goedke,

OUR GREATEST SALES EVENT IN 50 THRIFTY YEARS OF SAVINGS!

High school students sell nearly $9000 in magazine subscriptions

Students of Arlington Heights Township high school have sold approximately $9,000 worth of magazine subscriptions from October 27 to November 7.

Class spirit ran high in the contest between the classes with the sophomores winning with an average sale per student of $10.57. The freshman class was a close runner-up with an average sale of $11.03 per freshman. Cash prizes of $50 and $25 dollars were awarded the winning classes.

SOPHOMORE home room 206 was the winning home-room in the contest. James Cockrum is the adviser and Judy Gilman the captain of the magazine drive.

This was the only home-room to report that 100% of the students had turned in sales. The total sales turned in by the home-room was $484.60 with an average per student of over $17.

Each day a choice of an olympic jacket, a skyliner pen and pencil set, or a Brownie Mohawk camera was given to the high salesman of the day. Students who have won these prizes are Nancy Jo Tice, Joellyn Laird, Barbara Martin, Norbert Pruess, Ken Krueger, Charlotte Johnston and Ronald Botterman.

Daily selections were also held in which the two winners received a 17 jewel Hampden wrist watch, an olympic jacket, a skyliner pen and pencil set, or season passes to the Arlington Theatre, depending on the amount of subscriptions turned in. Daily award winners were Richard Sander, Dianne Ashe, Juyd Gregg, Lawrence Johnson, Lorraine Raupp, Marilyn Volkman, Frances Hubbard, Bob Dallstream, Audrey Hamblen, George Wax, Edrene Schmidt, Mary Jane Torreyson and Audrey Hartwig.

SALESMEN who have sold at least $50 in subscriptions are: Virginia Behrens, Ronald Botterman, James Brown, Andrew Cochran, Richard Frazier, Judy Gilman, Charlotte Johnston, Ken Krueger, Barbara Martin, Nancy Jo Tice, Ruth Teutsch and Carol Worthington.

All pupils who have sold their quota of $12 received two tickets to the Arlington Theatre in addition to being eligible to win a Motorola television set November 10.

Because of the fine showing made by the students and the cooperation of the townspeople, it is estimated that a substantial amount of the earnings of the school will be set aside to start a fund for the new stage after the madrigal costumes, the band uniforms, and the choir robes have been purchased.

PTA Child Study group hears what children think of discipline

The PTA Child Study group met last Thursday evening and listened to an American Broadcasting Co. transcription of children from 8 to 12 years of age being interviewed by child psychologist, Helen Parkhurst. The children spoke on what they thought of parents' and teachers' ways of handling disobedience and discipline. They agreed that they didn't mind punishment if they were first given the reason for it. They disliked being punished in front of strangers.

A general discussion followed the transcription. The Child Study group meets the first Thursday of every month in the kindergarten room of the South school. All parents of pre-school children and elementary school children are invited to attend.

65 youth discuss problems of negro-white relationships

With lessons drawn from experience, Rev. J. W. Smith, Negro pastor from North Carolina, discussed the real problems of Negro-White relationships with a group of 65 youths at the Presbyterian church last Sunday night. The group was composed of young people from the Mt. Prospect Community church and the Arlington Heights Methodist and Presbyterian churches, who had gathered to learn more of a practical Christianity active in solving the problems that face youth.

After a 30 minute initial presentation by Mr. Smith, the group entered into an hour long discussion on the problem. Following the group discussion, smaller group discussions, with the speaker at the center of a series of never ending questions were in progress throughout the evening.

FAVORITES

For FLAVOR

by GARNELL DOVE

It's candy making time again and housewives are hurriedly hunting up old standbys and wondering if Aunt Jane or Cousin Henry wouldn't like a box of homemade candy this year for Christmas.

"Real chocolate and real good" is the quick description Mrs. James L. Bowen Jr. gives her almond caramel candy. She also has a recipe for spiced nuts that is very simple, but ever so good and different, too.

Mrs. James L. Bowen Jr. of 25 S. Forest, Palatine, is the newly elected president of the active Palatine Park Garden Club. Her two little girls, Penny, 3, and Jamie, 17 months, and the garden club keep her very busy. She doesn't have time for experimental cooking these days. She highly recommends spiced nuts and almond caramels for busy homemakers who want sure success with candy.

Mrs. Bowen said, "I never fail to make these candies for Christmas. Wrap them individually in waxed paper or bits of brightly colored cellophane; they are wonderful. Even people with false teeth will like the caramels because they're firm without being too sticky." She smiled. "They're just right."

If you plan to prepare Christmas boxes of goodies for friends and relatives, or just the family, this is a good recipe to keep handy.

Almond Caramel Candy

(About 1 1/2 pounds)
 1 1/2 cups granulated sugar
 1/4 cup cold water
 3/4 cup light corn syrup
 1/4 cup margarine
 3 one ounce squares chocolate (unsweetened)
 1 cup light cream
 1 cup blanched almonds
 2 teaspoons vanilla
 1/8 teaspoon salt

Combine sugar, water, syrup, and margarine and bring to a boil. Add chocolate (which has been melted over warm water) and stir to blend. Cook to 240 degrees by the candy thermometer; stir to prevent scorching. Add cream heated to boiling point, a small portion at a time. Cook to 250 degrees; stir to prevent scorching. Remove from heat, add almonds, flavoring and salt, and stir to blend. Pour onto greased slab or pan and cool. When cool enough to handle, form into rolls. Cool further, cut into pieces of desired size, and wrap in waxed paper.

Spiced Nuts

Cook 1 cup sugar and 1/4 cup water until a thread spins (236 degrees F.). Remove from heat, add 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon and 1 1/2 cups nuts. Stir until nuts are sugared. Separate.

Take wedding vows recently

Mrs. Clara Klehm of Arlington Heights became the bride of Paul Grzeskiewicz of Arlington Heights November 4, and 4:30 p.m., at the Methodist church in Park Ridge.

Mrs. J. W. Boeckh and Elmer Klehm, son of the bride, were the witnesses.

Hugh Hollembaek takes Lorene Grimm as bride

In a candlelight ceremony Miss Lorene Grimm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest E. Grimm of Des Plaines, became the bride of Hugh Hollembaek, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis F. Hollembaek of 14 S. George st., Mt. Prospect, November 5.

Rev. F. L. Gehrs officiated at the double ring ceremony which was held at the Elk Grove Evangelical Lutheran church. Mrs. Louis F. Hollembaek Jr. sang "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied at the organ by Paul Meeske. Two large bouquets of mums and pom poms decorated the altar and two small bouquets of pom poms and carnations served as pew markers.

The bride wore a white satin gown with a long train and a sweetheart neckline embodied with pearls and rhinestones. Her French illusion veil was trimmed in silk forget-me-nots and studded with rhinestones. She carried a crescent shaped bouquet of gardenias with a white orchid in the center and was given away by her father.

Mrs. Milo Benhart of Roselle was the matron of honor. She wore a moss green velvet gown, colonial in style, with an off-the-shoulder bertha collar and gaudy-lets to match. She wore a braided headpiece and carried a colonial bouquet of lilies edged with white tulle and ostrich tips.

Bridesmaids, Misses Junia Grimm, sister of the bride, Betty

Linneman, Eleanor Staudenbaur and Arlene Whittenberg were dressed in winterberry colored velvet gowns.

The flower girl, Carol Van Gerben, wore a dress similar to that of the matron of honor's and carried a miniature bouquet. Ring bearer was Tommy Walsh, the bride's cousin.

Best man was Louis F. Hollembaek Jr., the groom's brother, and ushers were Kenneth Moeller, cousin of the bride, Loren Hollembaek, Milo Benhart and Marvin Gaetsch.

The bride's mother wore a hunter's green dress with black accessories and an orchid corsage. The groom's mother wore a gun metal gray dress with black accessories and an orchid corsage.

A reception for 450 guests was held in Buffalo Grove and the couple are spending their honeymoon in New Mexico. In two weeks they will be at home at the bride's parents home.

A pre-bridal dinner for attendants was given October 26 at El-Reno in Des Plaines.

Several bridal showers were also given for the bride. A miscellaneous shower was given by Miss Betty Linneman and Miss Evelyn Benhart, a personal shower by Mrs. L. F. Hollembaek Jr., and another miscellaneous shower by Mrs. Emil Moellenkamp and Mrs. Herman Oehlerting.

Auxiliary notes

Illinois membership reached 76,674 last year. A tentative 80,500 goal has been set for 1950. "Pyramids of Membership" is the objective of Mrs. Wolff and her membership committee, an objective relative to that part of the state known as "Little Egypt," the home of the department president, Mrs. Brown. The membership program will be built step by step as the pyramids were, with the first drive, the "Stone Cutters," ending October 31. The "Foundation Builders" drive will start October 31 and continue until December 2.

Membership in the auxiliary offers many fields of interest and activities. At this time of the year plans are under way for the coming holiday season in the 29 Illinois hospitals where veterans are cared for and in the children's hospitals and institutions throughout the state. Another Auxiliary program in the interest of children is the organization's Student Loan Fund and Education of Orphans of Veterans program. Under the supervision of Mrs. Gaylon C. Kent of Anna, copies of the educational benefits and regulations governing them are being distributed to Illinois schools.

Under its educational program the American Legion Auxiliary is pledged to assist in the education of the children of veterans and to see that every orphan of a veteran has a chance to secure an education.

Something to think about

For the State of Illinois the first half of 1949:

Accidents

Some improvement was registered in the Illinois traffic accident record in the first half of this year.

There were 61,921 reported accidents, compared with 64,380 in the first half of 1948, or nearly 4 per cent less this year.

Fatalities

There were 795 traffic fatalities in the first half of this year, compared with 899 in the corresponding period last year. This amounts to a reduction of 12 per cent.

Injuries

Last year 29,412 persons were reported injured in traffic accidents during the first six months. This year there were 28,401 injured, or 3 per cent less.

Accident Causes

Too fast for conditions was the top cause and accounted for 15 per cent of rural highway accidents this year.

The Importance of Signaling

In all forms of transportation the orderly movement of vehicles is facilitated by prearranged signals. In travel by air, sea, or rail, signaling and correct observation of signals are a matter of life and death.

Signaling and correct observation of signals are as much matters of life and death in motor vehicle travel, as in any other form of transportation. Ten per cent of all the accidents which happened last year on rural primary highways in Illinois, were caused by failure to signal or disregard of proper signal. Three percent of the fatal accidents were so caused.

Signaling Regulations

A signal is required whenever a change in vehicle movement will affect either a pedestrian or another vehicle. The signal must be given well in advance of the intended movement. The law reads as follows:

"No person shall turn a vehicle from a direct course upon a street or highway unless, and until such movement can be made with reasonable safety, and then only after giving a clear, audible signal by sounding a horn, if any pedestrian may be affected by such movement or after giving an appropriate signal in the manner hereinafter provided in the event any other vehicle may be affected by such movement."

A signal intended to turn right or left shall be given during not less than the last 100 feet traveled by the vehicle before turning.

"No person shall stop or suddenly decrease the speed of a vehicle without first giving an appropriate signal, in the manner provided herein, to the driver of any vehicle immediately to the rear, when there is opportunity to give such signal."

There are three kinds of signals specified by law: signals may be given by hand and arm, by signal lamp, or by signal device. All signals must be clearly visible.

"When vehicles are so constructed or loaded that a hand and arm signal would not be visible, both to the front and rear of such vehicle, then said signals must be given by such lamp or device."

"All signals herein required given by hand and arm shall be given from left side of the vehicle in the following manner and such signals shall indicate as follows:

1. Left turn: hand and arm extended horizontally.
2. Right turn: hand and arm extended upward, or moved with a sweeping motion, from rear to the front.
3. Stop or decrease speed: hand and arm extended downward.

Also note an approach for a right turn, and a right turn shall be made as close as practical to the right hand curb or edge of a roadway.

Let the motoring public of Arlington Heights keep it safe. Don't drive fast, be alert, live longer.

Through The School Doors

Mrs. Martin's afternoon second grade at the South school in Arlington Hts. is learning about its community. Perhaps you have seen these youngsters on their trips to various places in the village.

As they take these trips and meet the people who make up their community, they develop a personal contact with their environment. In addition, these experiences augment their personal-social development. These boys and girls learn how these departments operate by talking to the men at the fire and police stations. Their visit to the library and their contact with the librarian do a great deal to stimulate reading interest.

FILMS, SHOWN at the school after these trips have been taken, help to enrich the experiences.

The children learn by doing, as they construct their model village. Richard Johnston makes a model of the village hall. An observer would have no trouble identifying the Hagenbrunn store model made by Melodee Hagenbrunn. The village includes other buildings such as a school, by Jeanette DeVries; a toy store, by Bobby Burt; a meat market, by Karen Lohr; a church, by Kathie Haynsworth; a hotel, by John Hanor; a fire department, by Nancy McComb; and last, but not least, two homes, one by Peter Dykstra and the other by Patsy Mukahirn.

THOSE CHILDREN who do not make buildings or houses paint an attractive mural to use as a background for the village.

The second grade afternoon group invites parents to stop in and see its model village.

School holiday

Armistice Day this Friday, November 11, will give the boys and girls of the public grade schools a chance for another holiday. Thus today, Thursday, will mark the end of the week for them and will also mark the end of American Education Week, which was being observed at this time.

During Education Week parents were urged to come to the schools and see for themselves

Science teachers meet

A group of science teachers from Arlington Heights Township high school including Nelson Lowry, department head, and Miss Marian Diehl, Robert Kemman, and Roderick McLennan, attended the meeting of Science Teachers of Northern Illinois at Proviso Township high school November 3.

The first part of the evening was spent on a tour of the science rooms and an informal discussion of various procedures in teaching science. Later, F. C. Furney, assistant director of the Argonne Laboratories, largest atomic energy laboratory in the United States, addressed the group on recent developments in atomic energy. Mr. Furney emphasized the ways in which developments would affect each individual in everyday life and told of interesting experiments on growing radio-active plants and on animal development.

The spring meeting of the group, which comprises about 125 members, will be held at Arlington Heights Township high school.

NEW NEIGHBORS .... IN THE CITY OF GOOD NEIGHBORS

Moving to Arlington Heights is really back in the old stomping ground for the Anton H. Remenih's of 646 S. Dunton, because Mrs. Remenih covered this suburb when she worked for the Chicago Tribune Metropolitan section.

And Tony Remenih did a series of articles for the same paper on Chicago suburbs about a year ago, and Arlington Heights was a spot he particularly liked.

THEY JUST moved into their spanking new Cape Cod home last week and are now busy getting settled. This is a truly journalistic family, both mom and pop have newspaper backgrounds and their three year old son answers promptly to the nickname of "Scoop."

"He was disgusted when I told him his name was really Anton, too, he much prefers 'Scoop,' and after all," laughed Mrs. Remenih, "he's the biggest Scoop we ever had."

Scoop has a small brother, Michael, now nine months old and temporarily Mrs. Remenih is busy just being mama, but hopes someday to find time to do more with a hobby of painting pictures and art work in general.

MRS. REMENIH actually started out to be an artist, but got sidetracked into newspaper work and good naturedly declared that she probably made a far better reporter than she ever would an artist.

The Remenih's have been looking for just the right home for over two years and discovered just what they wanted right here.

Mr. Remenih, Tony's friends, taught English and other subjects for two years before the war at a University in Japan. He was later with the O. S. S. during the war and because of his wide knowledge of the Orient was stationed in China. At present he is associate radio and television editor for the Chicago Tribune.

THE ENTIRE family is anxious to meet all the neighbors, especially busy Scoop, who is on the lookout for a new pal.

Mrs. Remenih trusts he finds a playmate soon. "Yesterday he set his hair with powder base, and helped me get settled by emptying a new box of powder all over the upstairs."

Scoop was non-committal at this recital. He's in the market for any three year old guy to help him in the trucking and train business.

Renewing Porch Rugs

To renew grass or fibre rugs of the type frequently used on porches, coat them with regular exterior house paint, thinned to the consistency of stain with turpentine, in the proportion of one part turpentine to four parts paint. A 9 x 12 rug will require approximately three quarts of paint and one and a half pints of turpentine.

Palatine to have tough time to name starting five in opener next week

With just two weeks of practice Palatine will open the basketball season at home next week Friday night November 18 with Batavia of the Little Seven Conference the opponent. Last year Palatine opened at Batavia with a one point defeat but expects to turn the tables this season.

Coach J. E. Stutzman expects Palatine boys to play better varsity ball than they did a year ago. He has six lettermen but they will all have to work hard to make the team for the boys coming up from the frosh-soph team of last year will provide rugged competition.

Lettermen and all seniors are John Waznik, six foot forward; Don Klein, six foot forward; Ray Mair, five nine guard; Bob Steinbrink six foot three, center; John Trenchard, six foot sophomore center, who stands six three, center; and Mat Merfeld, five eight, guard. Promising juniors are Dick Ross, six foot guard or forward; Ralph Sherman, six foot, center or guard; Ray Sievers, five eleven, guard; Vernon Guenther, five seven, forward; and Don Rogers, five foot eight, forward. Completing the squad of twelve is Don Buenzow,

Palatine Eagles in final game Sunday

Palatine Eagles played against the Franklin Park Naturals at Franklin Park, Friday, November 4, winning, 7-6. Both teams played a good game. Franklin Park scored a first touchdown, but lost the point after.

In the last 33 seconds of the game Palatine scored a touchdown by a pass from Lueschin to Krause. They scored the point after, making the score 7-6. This is the first game Palatine has won this season.

The PAA plays their last game Sunday, November 13, at the high school field in Palatine, against Woodstock Moose at 2 p.m.

another contender. He also has the boys from last year's freshman team which won the conference tournament with the exception of long Buenzow who has been moved to the varsity.

Material for the freshman team being coached by Eldon Naffziger is quite a little below par as most of the boys have played little if any basketball.

This year all three squads will get plenty of practice. The varsity squad practices from 2:10 to 4:00 in the high school gym and the sophomore and freshman squads under Bailey and Naffziger alternate use of the high school and the grade school gyms from 4:00 to 6:00. Through the courtesy of the grade school authorities the high school will use their gym Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday afternoons from 4:00 to 6:00 each week.

ARLINGTON'S 'TOUGHEST SLATE' FOR CAGERS OPENS NOV. 25

W. Aurora, Dundee, DeKalb all on local slate of 20 games

With the pigskin being replaced by a basketball at most high schools of the area, Arlington Heights proves no exception with football suits being turned in this week for the cage variety, and Gene Bell telling Curtis Larsen to move off the "head coach" chair.

For it is Gene, assisted by James Thon and Bus Ormsbee, who "come into their own" at Arlington high school during the next four months as the cagers begin training for a slate that includes twenty doubleheaders and two tours.

Last year the Cardinals notched a record of 16 wins, nine losses, outscoring their opponents, 886-778. The locals hope to improve on that record in open competition against some of the better teams of the state.

TICKETS went on sale this week at both the high school office and Millay's in town, with just 93 reserved season tickets offered at $6.00 for the year. Single admission seats are retailing at 60c for adults, and 40c for students.

Of course, with less than 100 offered to the public, it will be strictly a matter of "first come,

Saybrook, located close to Champaign, survived last year's tournament until the sectional finals. They have almost their entire team intact this season, and are making a short tour in the north prior to Christmas. They will play Arlington December 17.

On the sidelines

by RON PRELLBERG

Another football season has come and gone at Arlington, but a great deal will be remembered of the coaches and players who sparked our school through a rough and rugged grid schedule. Here are some interesting angles to the grid season now completed:

1. The Cards lost 3 out of 4 away from home all by the same score of 13-6.
2. The Cards won 3 out of 4 at home losing only to Kankakee by 1 point.

3. The highest number of points scored against the Cards was strangely enough scored by a team that the Cards defeated, Marmions 25 points here. Fans will recall that the Cards won this free scoring game, 35-25.

4. Coach Willie Creamer's Frosh-Sophs lost their first 2 encounters, then turned around and won their next 4. They were unscathed in the last 4 games.

Spectators are still talking about the beautiful block thrown by Vern Wandarsee, substitute tackle on Gordon Busse's last TD jaunt. Vern shoulder blocked one man and then layed 3 Eagles on the ground with another block. Many fans were heard to remark that they had gotten their moneys worth out of the season when they saw this beautiful downfield block.

Coaches Bell, Thon, and Ormsbee have begun basketball practice. For the first time three coaches are working basketball.

Two transfer students, Don Larson from Marengo and Stanford Carter from Indiana are looking good in Coach Bell's varsity practice.

Geneva will be the first opponent for the Heights' Cagers this winter. This contest will take place on the Cardinal floor Friday, November 25, at 8:15. A preliminary tilt will be staged by the local frosh-soph at 7:15 p.m.

team last year fight its way to fourth spot in the state tournament will get a chance to see Beaver & Co. play host to the locals December 9.

West Aurora has most of its varsity back for another stab at the state title, and is playing Arlington, Palatine and Barrington this year in tuncups.

Another team on Coach Bell's plans is DeKalb, a squad that would have gone to the finals if located in a sectional other than with Elgin last year. The Maroons edged them in their own tourney, only to fall themselves in their first contest at Urbana. DeKalb lost just two games last year, to Elgin and Leyden, in the Franklin Park cracker box, by the way.

PERENNIAL Dundee appears on the Heights slate this year, coming to the Cook county school January 7. Schuldt is gone, but Coach Gene deLacey's boys generally rate among northern Illinois schools almost as strong as Frank Leahy's men in college football.

by G. A. McELROY

The Northwest Conference season is over and Barrington's mighty Bronchos have their second straight championship tucked away. They never had a really tough ball game all year. Their runaway with the league was expected. They scored 257 points to opponents' 19, averaging 37 a game. Armanetti, McNichols, Roake, Frey, Shuett, and Hansen and they were not mature enough physically or experienced enough for varsity competition. Wauconda will be much better next year and the conference as a whole will be more evenly matched.

Vote to eliminate spring football practice and summer basketball

Schools of the Illinois High School Association are balloting on two questions which are expected to pass. One is to permit no football practice between December 1 and the Monday preceding Labor day. This would eliminate spring practice and definitely set the day on which fall practice would start. Summer practice has been ruled out for a number of years.

The other requirement is that no basketball practice shall be held between the time of the state tournament and October 1. This eliminates summer basketball, an activity some schools had encouraged in park and recreation programs. It also prevents some schools from starting practice for some of their boys in September when school opens. We think both are good rules if the state will enforce them. There certainly is no intention in either rule to make it illegal for a boy and some of his friends to shoot baskets in

In the pre-season guessing we doped the conference on the basis of returning material and quantity of material. Following the Bronchos we listed Bensenville and Antioch as teams to push the Barrington club. Bensenville played a suicide schedule with three games in two weeks with Hinsdale and Leyden included and started the league season with half the team injured. They never did get back to full strength until the Grant game and they did look good in their last three contests. Antioch looked slow and poorly organized at the start and dropped three in a row. They then rallied to win three but lost the final to a good Ela team, finishing in sixth place.

We picked Palatine or Ela for fourth as both had much good material but somewhat short on the side of experience. Ela started rolling in mid season after two losses and won the last three handily from Northbrook, Palatine, and Antioch to take second place. Palatine started slow, played two good games at home with Wauconda and Bensenville and then reverted to early season form to drop their last three and finish seventh. The Pirates had a good tunning attack but lacked a passing game.

Grant and Northbrook finish in first division

Grant and Northbrook had limited material and were expected to finish sixth and seventh but came through strong for third and fourth. Grant had the stuff to win the close ones and took four straight but failed to maintain the pace in the closing weeks. Northbrook won the first two but for several weeks was crippled by injuries in the Antioch game. A good passing attack featuring Fred Schmidt lifted the Vikings to the first division.

Wauconda put up a game but futile battle all season against one-sided odds. They had quite a number of freshmen and sophomores on the regular varsity

Ohlhaber grabs Nelson but Arlington trips Leyden, 24-13

Eric Nelson carries the ball for Arlington, and is brought to the ground by Ohlhaber of Leyden. The Cards went ahead by two touchdowns, were passed by Leyden's two, then forged on to win, 24-13.

Heights frosh-sophs whitewash Leyden 12-0

by RON PRELLBERG

The AHTS frosh-soph squad directed by QB Roger Ragland celebrated the close of the '49 grid season with a crushing victory over the Leyden frosh-sophs on the local field in a 12-0 preliminary contest. The impressive amount of offensive and defensive work displayed by the junior Cards brought the crowd to their feet more than once.

The first quarter jitters took a quick affect over the boys from Leyden as a first play fumble gave the Cards possession of the ball on the visitors' 35. A series of line plunges followed on which the locals drove to the 6-inch line where Roger Ragland managed to bump his way over on a QB sneak. A fumble of the pass from center threw away the Cards' chances for the extra point.

The junior Red Birds tallied for the last time this year after Rickert, local end, brushed his way past two blockers and stopped a Leyden punt on their opponents' 18. Again Ragland was given credit for the score as he slashed his way over the center of the line to paydirt. An end sweep for the point was halted.

Bears host to Detroit Sunday; Cards in Gotham

The Chicago Bears were still playing the Rams Sunday afternoon at Wrigley Field, though the Packers were on the field, when the scoreboard suddenly showed Halas the westerners had lost their first game.

Then the fireworks started, and yawns of the 47,218 fans on hand immediately changed to yells as the Bears knocked out a 24-3 win over the men from up north.

THOSE RAMS still have to lose two more, however, to do the Chicagoans any good, but the revival of the Cardinals makes such a situation at least possible, though mostly just wished for by Lujack and company at this point.

Detroit comes to town this Sunday at 1:30 with the Bears the favorites. But then the Giants were supposed to lose, too, but no one told them about it before their recent fracas with the Windy City eleven.

Detroit has surprised a couple of times this season, including the previous visit to Chicago when they whipped the Cardinals, and bowed to the Rams, 27-24, in the first meeting of the two teams. Last year 35,000 were on hand to see the game, with probably about three to six thousand more sure to be on deck Sunday.

THE CARDINALS travel to New York this week to meet Bobby Layne's Bulldogs in a game that should go to Coach Buddy Parker's charges. The Bulldogs have definitely been building this year, and with the help of three former Bears, copied their first upset Sunday against the Giants.

Next Sunday, November 20, that crucial Card-Ram series starts. The Chicagoans can still win the title by winning their remaining games, while the Rams have to cop four of the remaining five to assure themselves the western division championship. Plenty of Bear fans are sure to be at Comiskey Park the 20th to watch the Cardinals "pour it on" with the whole town pulling against the westerners. Last year the Rams lost both games to the Cardinals, 27-24 and 27-22.

THE HORNETS continue their quest for the All-America play-offs when they meet the New York Yankees Sunday. The Yankees took the measure of the Hornets in their meeting in Chicago September 18, and Coach Ray Flaherty's boys could cop this one. Next and last home game for the Hornets is Thanksgiving Day against the Browns in Soldier Field.

Arlington scores, relaxes, then rallies to beat Leyden

by RON PRELLBERG

The Arlington varsity gridders concluded their '49 grid season in fine fashion last Friday night on the locals' field through a 24 to 13 win over the Franklin Park eleven. The locals fired the first TD charge early in the second period on a QB sneak on which Eric Nelson broke his way through center to score. From then until the close of the last frame the Heights offense refused to let up on the visitors. A 500 season was accomplished by this victory along with the developing of several outstanding senior performers such as Gordon Busse, John Deinger, Augie Krause, Emmett McDougall, Don Hesch, Ed Kostka, Dick Spratt and Bob Neumann.

THE OPENING kickoff glanced off a would be Arlington receiver and started to bound back towards the Leyden line where it came to a halt in the arms of an oncharging Leyden player. This incident kept the ball within the locals territory for the majority of the period. A fumble recovered by Evans of Arlington on their own 30 started the Cards on their first touchdown march which was ended shortly on the Leyden 3 by the end of the first frame.

Three successive running plays were run off by the Red Birds before Nelson was able to fight his way over on a QB sneak from the 1-yard stripe. The Arlington gridders were destined for paydirt for the second time in this period after receiving a Leyden punt on the 45. In three plays the locals had pushed their way to the 15 where a pitch from Kostka to Spratt netted the Cards their second tally. Griffith's conversion try failed due to a hard charging line. An increasing amount of energy enabled the visitors to push the pigskin to Heights' three-yard line before the Cards came to their senses and gained possession of the ball on downs.

THE ARLINGTON defense seemed to relax as they allowed two Leyden tallies to slip by them in the third frame, both coming on quick openers. The first was aided by a 15-yard unnecessary roughness penalty against the local squad which placed the ball well within the Red Birds' territory. John Sorenson, Leyden's fullback, reached

Defensive guard

One of the stars in Friday night's victory over Leyden for Arlington was Don Hesch, capable defensive guard for Coach Curtis Larsen.

When Bob Schulze developed water on the knee early in the season, it was up to Bob Jackisch and Don Hesch to take over his position. Hesch was assigned on defense, and has performed creditably ever since.

Just last Friday night Don made several fine tackles against the Eagles, helping Arlington walk off with a 24-13 victory. He is a senior.

ed paydirt for the first time for the visitors as he raced 25 yards over the right side of the line into the end zone. A fake dropkick resulting in a pass, was good for the point. Sorenson again became responsible for the second Leyden TD when he spun his way through left guard and tackle to the goal. The kick for the point sailed wide of its mark.

The end of the scoring for the night was far from over as the Cards managed to rack up a couple of tallies in the final period. Gordon Busse, fleet left half, was responsible for both of the Arlington touchdowns as the result of his outstanding slyness and speed. Busse's first score came on a pass from Nelson on the 30 which was completed on the 15 and then Busse toted the ball to the goal. The Heights scoring for the season was brought to a close when Busse ran a punt return 60 yards to the Leyden end zone behind beautiful blocking.

THE WHOLE Arlington squad and its coaching staff consisting of Curtis Larsen and Bus Ormsbee will go down in Cardinal grid history as a team of highly qualified players with a good record against the best of competition.

Palatine athletic group opens cage practice for season

PAA has started basketball practice at Palatine high school gym Tuesday evening. Those interested in playing with the team can contact Buck Mattingly, Palatine 544-R. The team has secured Moose Foster as their coach, and a center from Lawrence college who has just recently moved to Palatine.

The team hopes to schedule some big name teams, like the Globe Trotters and the Brown Bombers. However, this year they will play in the Lake Region conference, consisting of teams from Crystal Lake, Barrington, Wauconda, Grayslake, Lake Zurich, Gurnee, Antioch, Palatine, etc.

The team hopes to play their first game about the first week in December. Last year they finished with a 17-3 record, and plan to have as good, if not better record this year.

Northbrook takes 18-6 win over Palatine in final contest

Northbrook's Vikings moved into the first division in the final standings of the Northwest conference by beating Palatine at Glenview Park Friday night, 18-6, in sub-freezing weather. Northbrook's recovery of five Palatine fumbles and interception of two passes stopped Palatine's offense and set up scoring opportunities for the winners.

The Vikings scored in the second, third and fourth periods. Palatine got a tally in the third after the score had been made 12-0. Paul Loeber got away for a 38 yard scoring run for the lone Palatine TD.

In the first period both teams seemed headed for scores but fumbles stopped them. Early in the second period Northbrook recovered a Palatine fumble on their own 39 yard line. Their drive started with a 23 yard pass from Fred Schmidt to Huhta. Three more plays made it first down on the 29. On the next play Jerry Lichtenberger ran off Palatine's left tackle for a touchdown. Soon after Northbrook started another drive from their own 40 which ended on the Palatine five. A 15 yard penalty following first down on Palatine's 10 slowed the Viking offense. With two minutes to the half Palatine traveled from their own 51 to Northbrook's seven on seven plays, including a 15 yard penalty, a 19 yard pass, and a 26 yard run and one of 17 yards by Paul Loeber.

Pirate fumbles give Vikings opportunities

Northbrook tried three times before they put over their second touchdown in the third period. Their first drive ended on the Palatine 23. Palatine fumbled and Northbrook recovered on the 27. A pass took them to the 10, but they gave up the ball on downs on the Pirate five. The Pirates moved out to the 48 on two first downs, but again fumbled and the Vikings recovered. With fourth down and 12 to go on the 25 yard line Fred Schmidt tossed an accurate pass to Lichtenberger in the end zone.

Soon after Palatine fumbled and Northbrook recovered on the 50 but the Vikings gave it right back on a fumble. Krause ran 12 yards and Loeber followed up with a 38 yard touchdown sprint. Soon after a poor Palatine pass was intercepted by Northbrook on the Pirate 44 and the Vikings marched to another score with three first downs on short gains to the two yard line. Shiklus plunged over. Neither team made extra points, attempting to plunge the ball over in each case.

Loeber finished his grid career for Palatine with his best yardage total, 139 yards net from scrimmage. Fred Schmidt of Northbrook increased his chances for all-league honors with 108 net yards running and passing for the same distance for 216 yards total offense. Jerry Lichtenberger's two touchdowns moved him into a tie for third place in conference scoring.

Ela surprises to beat Antioch in final, 28-13

Ela, the surprise team on the Northwest Conference, dumped Antioch out of a chance for second place in the final standings and took over that spot themselves Friday 28-13. Led by Jerry Centoni and George Schwarz who played their best ball of the year the Bears led Antioch throughout the game. They scored two touchdowns in the first quarter and added another in the third quarter and a final one in the last period. Antioch scored in the first and third periods.

The first two scores came on drives from the 35 and 40 yard lines with Centoni plunging over behind excellent interference by Schwarz and Wendt. Haviland of Antioch scored on a 50 yard pass play in the first quarter. Prouty scored the third touchdown on a 25 yard run. A blocked punt by Iverson set up a fourth Ela score.

Ela had 13 first downs to Antioch's eight and had 237 yards net gain rushing to Antioch's 119. Antioch gained 52 yards on passes to Ela's 20. Centoni scored three touchdowns and plunged over for three extra points. Prouty got one T. D. and an extra point.

Ela's season record of five victories and two defeats was unusual for a school in its second year of football and a tribute to good team spirit and good coaching.

Niles closes season with 13-0 win at Woodstock

by LOU KEESEY

The Niles Varsity gridmen closed their season November 4 by downing Woodstock 13 to 0 under the lights at the latter's field. Two touchdowns, one in the second period and another in the third period, were all Niles needed to win their fourth straight game without a setback and their fifth victory in eight games.

The Trojans fumbled the opening kickoff, and it was recovered by Woodstock on the Niles 19-yard marker. The Trojan line braced and took over the ball on downs at the 10-yard line.

The Niles attack was halted several times in the first half by penalties. The referee's little red handkerchief was all that stopped Lenny Lange, Niles left halfback, from scoring, when he ran 35 yards to the end zone early in the second period. Lange scored later in the period from 20 yards out on the same play. A pass for the extra point was incomplete, leaving Niles in command 6 to 0 at the halftime recess.

MEN OF TROY marched 50 yards to tally the first time they had the ball in the second half. A 10-yard pass from Don Walters, Trojan quarterback, to Whitey Gawrys, Trojan end, climaxed the drive. Lenny Lange kicked the extra point.

Coach Harold Isacson emptied the bench in the fourth quarter. Although the second stringers could not engineer a score, they held the Woodstock offense in check.

Woodstock gained 18 yards rushing and minus 14 yards passing for a net total of 4 yards. The Trojans gained 142 yards rushing and 11 yards passing for a net gain of 153 yards.

Niles freshmen lose to Woodstock

by AL KRUEGER

The Niles township high school frosh football team lost their final game of the season 20-7, to the Woodstock Blue-streaks last Friday night on the Woodstock gridiron.

The Blue-streaks scored on the first play from scrimmage when McCannan, Woodstock right halfback, sprinted 70 yards off tackle for the touchdown. Deischter kicked the extra point and the score stood 7-0.

In the second quarter, Winke, Woodstock's fullback, raced 11 yards around end for a touchdown. Deischter's conversion was no good. The score stood 13-0.

Dick Rosenberg put the Trojans back in the game as he intercepted a pass on his 10 yard line and raced 90 yards for a touchdown. Dick Meyer passed to Dave Petri for the extra point making the score 13-7.

The final tally of the game came when Winke passed 25 yards to Deischter, who kicked the extra point.

The Frosh have lost five and tied one this season.

his backyard or to throw a football around but for the basketball team or football team to get together and hold team practices seems to us to be clearly a violation no matter who may be in charge of them or whose equipment they may be using.

It is clearly up to coaches and principals to see that any organized practice is not held either on the school grounds or anywhere else. The state association, representing over 850 schools through elected representatives expects its members to act in good faith in observing the rules the group has enacted.

Evanston whips New Trier for claim to State title
We saw Evanston down New Trier Saturday for the Suburban League crown and a claim to the state championship. The Wildkats have a great ball club. We have never before seen such sharp tackling and blocking, and such deceptive running by a high school team as that displayed by Evanston. They had no less than four colored boys in the lineup and they have 13 good ones on the varsity squad. The boys west of the tracks in Evanston have certainly given that north shore town a lift in football.

In our opinion only West Aurora of all the downstate schools in Illinois might challenge Evanston's state title claim. West has several more games to play and can be expected to hold nothing back as they take on Elgin and East Aurora. Watch for those scores.

Niles to compete in five suburban league sports
Niles of Skokie will not be in the Suburban League football schedule next year but they will be included in five sports of the conference starting this coming spring. The Trojans are slated to compete in baseball, track, golf, cross country, and swimming. Arlington and Leyden have both tried to get a membership in the West Suburban League but there seems to be little chance that in the near future this conference will enlarge its membership beyond its present group of seven schools.

The famous babe to be first head golf pro.
Babe Zeharias, winner of all the women's golf titles and now a pro, has been signed as head professional at the swanky Sky Crest Golf Club just six miles north of Palatine. At a $20,000 a year salary, an airplane for flying to tournaments, and quarters for her ex-wrestling 300 pound husband, Babe seems to be doing all right by herself. Sky Crest will get a lot of publicity out of this deal. We wonder if the management has an idea of rivaling George May and his Tam-O-Shanter club.

Broncs close season in 33-7 win over Grant

Barrington started out early against Grant in a drive to continue their unbeaten record in the Northwest conference, coping the final contest against Grant, 33-7.

Right after the punt the Bronchos raced 60 yards in 5 plays, including a 48 yard jaunt by Shuett. Heckmiller added the extra point.

Barrington took over on Grant's 36 yard line when the Bulldogs failed to make the necessary 10 yards. In 3 plays the Bronchos had tallied again when Shuett passed to Roake for 22 yards. Heckmiller again converted.

THE SECOND quarter saw Frey intercept a pass and return it to the 15 yard stripe. A short pass to Roake for 6 yards, and a 9 yard run by Hansen added the TD.

Grant then scored when one Grant pass went 43 yards, and the next to Hill in the flat, who ran 11 yards for the score. Halftime tally was 20-7.

As the third period ended Frey went around end for 66 yards. George Hansen then carried the ball four successive times for the touchdown. Point kicked by Heckmiller.

Roake then intercepted a flat pass, and returned the sphere to Grant's 17. Popp then ran 17 yards for the touchdown. The long punts by Walker kept the boys from the far north in the game.

Presenting the Younger Generation

This laughing miss is Marilyn three and a half years old, only child of Mr. and Mrs. N. T. Dean of 114 S. Greenwood, Palatine. She has blue eyes and long blond wavy hair that is now longer than her picture shows. Her daddy calls her "Butch," that's a pretty tough name for this angel child.

"Butch" goes to dancing school and loves acrobatics. She is very agile and shows talent in that line already. Her favorite game is imitating her mother. When her mother sings and plays the piano for her she mimics every gesture and word. If she continues her efforts in these two fields, acrobatics and mimicry, "Butch" will probably put the name Marilyn up in lights.

Something new has been added. The first little fellow is Alan, two year old son of the A. P. Dietsches of 418 S. Main, Mount Prospect. It's been quite awhile since this picture was taken and Alan looks quite different. He's older and he wears glasses to correct one eye farsightedness.

Alan likes his glasses and is usually careful of them, and never complains about wearing them. The minute he awakens he asks for them.

Big brother is eager engineer. Robert, four, is blond with green eyes in contrast to Alan's brown hair and brown eyes. The boys like to play railroad. Bobby dresses up like an engineer, even to big canvas gloves, and runs a train of chairs in the house or wagons outside. He's fascinated by the trains that go through town and wants to be an engineer when he grows up.

Every trip to town is an adventure, they always stop and watch the trains go by. They moved to Mt. Prospect from Chicago a little over a year ago and the boys think living in a town where trains go through all the time is wonderful.

They are planning a trip to California next summer to visit their grandparents, and the family is now deep in discussion of trains versus planes.

Robert is looking forward to attending the first kindergarten class at the new Lincoln school on the south side of Mt. Prospect next fall. It's going to be a real honor to be in the first group of children who will use the new school.

Catching Cold

Polls and surveys show that more women catch colds than men. Only man and chimpanzees suffer colds. Dogs, cats, rabbits and other lower animals cannot catch cold.

Women of Moose

At an open meeting the Portage Park No. 427 Women of the Moose will conduct Library Chapter night November 15, at 8:30 p.m., at Moosehall, 5835 W. Irving Park rd., with Mrs. Ann Austin ave., Chicago, presiding. Miss Dorothy Schultz, library chairman, has planned the program. There will be a surprise guest speaker from "Mooseheart," the child city. An added feature of the evening will be a book shower. Members will donate books which will be distributed to Mooseheart and to hospitals in Chicago and vicinity.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Blenda Liljequist dies on November 3

Funeral services were held November 5 for Mrs. Blenda Liljequist of Palatine rd., Prospect Heights, who died November 3. They were held from Addison street Baptist church in Chicago, and burial was in Rosehill cemetery.

Surviving Mrs. Liljequist are her daughter, Mrs. Victor Anderson, with whom she had been residing for the last ten years, the last five of which were in Prospect Heights since the Andersons moved to the community. Also surviving are two sisters, Ida Saxon of Chicago, and Anna Olson, of Sweden.

Mrs. Liljequist would have been 77 years old November 23 of this year. She had been ill for many months and had been in the hospital since last July. She was born Blenda Swanson in Sweden in 1872 and came to America in 1891. Two years after her arrival in this country she married Carl Gustaf Liljequist in 1893. Her husband passed away in 1931.

She was a member of the Addison street Baptist church since before the turn of the century. Although not well during much of her residence in Prospect

Heights, she was a member several years ago of the Women's Guild of the Community church. (P. H. page)

IN MEMORIAM:

In memory of beloved husband and father, Fred Bradley, who passed away five years ago, November 11, 1944.

God knew that you were suffering.

He knew you were in pain.

He knew you never could get well.

In this world again.

He saw the road was getting rough.

The hills were hard to climb.

So he closed your weary eyelids.

And whispered, peace be thine.

A loving father so true and kind.

No friend on earth like you we find.

For all of us you did your best.

May God grant you eternal rest.

Loving Wife, Son,
Mother and Dad

New home units being built in Palatine

Palatine Homes, Inc., has begun construction of ten units in a 51 unit residential project in the 300 block of Schubert st., in Palatine.

The buildings are of frame construction with overall dimensions of 26 feet x 34 feet; they contain a living room, combination kitchen and dining area, two bedrooms and a utility room; the reinforced floor poured on pre-cast girders is covered with oak flooring in the living room, dining area and the bedrooms, and with asphalt tile in the kitchen and bath. The furnaces will be gas or oil fired.

The houses are priced from $9,895 to $9,995 and completion is expected by April, 1950. Greene & Gust Company are general contractors and sponsors of the development and Harold Stahl is the architect. Dovenmuehle, Inc., has arranged the mortgage financing.

Palatine, De Kalb Episcopal ministers to exchange services next Sunday

The Rev. David Joseph Reid, priest-in-charge of St. Paul's Episcopal church, DeKalb, will be guest minister at St. Philip's, Palatine services next Sunday. Father Hardin of St. Philip's will conduct services at St. Paul's that day.

Father Reid is also the Chaplain-Director of the Bishop McLaren Foundation at Sycamore. The foundation is being developed as a retreat for Chicago diocese Episcopalians and is housed in the buildings formerly occupied by St. Alban's Boys School. Wednesday of this week the women of St. Philip's held their first annual bazaar which was pronounced a marked success. Attendance ran high throughout the day with the doors being open from 2 to 10 p. m. Highlight of the event were the refreshments served during the afternoon and evening. They were supplied by the Inverness Guild of the Woman's Auxiliary. Movies and games were provided for the children of those attending.

It was the first major project of the newly formed guild and followed by just two days its regular meeting. Mrs. Harry Brown was hostess for the meeting which was attended by Mrs. Stanley Pepper, Mrs. Orville Warwick, Mrs. Emory Moore, Mrs. Paul Baker, Mrs. Carl Peterson and her mother and Mrs. Brown's mother. Mrs. Baker was elected chairman of the group and Mrs. Brown treasurer. Mrs. Moore showed samples of the Christmas cards and wrappings being offered by the Altar Guild. Next meeting is scheduled for Dec. 5 at the home of Mrs. Baker.

Several men from St. Philip's also attended the meeting of the Fox River Deacons held the same evening as the bazaar at Trinity church in Aurora. Because of the bazaar they were not able to duplicate their record at last year's meeting when theirs was the largest delegation present.

At the November meeting of the vestry held Monday evening a principle topic of discussion was the providing of bus service for children of the church school living in outlying areas. It is hoped that the service will be started before the end of the month.

Preliminary plans were also discussed for the parish's annual Holiday Inn, highlight of the social season. Chairman James Isham reports his committee has arrangements well underway for the best party yet. Date for the event is December 3. (AP)

Frank 'Apples' Kudelka may be 'matinee idol' of Chicago Stag roster

Grattan Playground, one of San Francisco's incubators of athletic greats, has scored again. This time it's Frank 'Apples' Kudelka who steps front and center in the athletic parade out of the Grattan hotbed.

Back in the depression '30's, Frank Kudelka was a stocky youngster hanging around Grattan playground, usually munching one of those apples they used to sell on every street corner. Since basketball was the No. 1 sport at Grattan, he learned to play it with the bigger, rougher, boys in the community. This year he'll be playing with the biggest, and perhaps roughest of them all—the journeymen of the merged National Basketball league and Basketball association of America.

Thus Kudelka carries on the long line of Grattan Playground proteges who have graduated to athletic greatness in the East and Mid-West. Already two cage graduates of the San Francisco playground, Kelvin O'Shea of Notre Dame and Bob Callahan of the Rochester pro club, have made their marks in mid-west circles. And, at the moment, the big pride of the playground district is one Jerry Coleman, the Yankee second baseman who was so important to the American Leaguers victory in the recent world series.

But it's possible that the kid, nicknamed 'Apples' by one of the Grattan hanger-ons, will wind up as famous as any of the other graduates. His collegiate record at St. Mary's includes a string of broken scoring records, topped by a 20.3-point-a-game average as a junior.

A 24-year-old Adonis of Bohemian extraction, Kudelka could well be the matinee idol of the Stag squad. His six-foot, three-inch frame, weighing 193 pounds, is loaded with rippling muscles, and his speed is unusual for a man of his size.

Stag games coming up in the Stadium include:

Minneapolis Lakers vs. Stags,

Chicago Brown Bombers vs. Toledo Collegians, November 12.

Fort Wayne Pistons vs. Stags, plus second game, November 16.

Boy gets his penny back after it lodged in his throat Thursday

A five-year-old Harvard, Ill., boy got his penny back Friday but it took some doing.

The child, Billy Kurtenbach Jr. of rural Harvard, was rushed to the Illinois Research Hospital in Chicago at an 80-mile-an-hour clip by Officer Earl Farver of the Elgin State Police, late Friday afternoon.

Events leading up to this speedy trip started Thursday when Billy, while playing with his piggy bank, swallowed a penny. His mother, Mrs. William Kurtenbach, took him to a local doctor, but at the time there appeared to be no cause for alarm.

Later, however, Billy began to cry and refused to eat. An X-ray showed the coin had lodged in his upper esophagus, blocking the tract.

Red Blanchard of the WLS Barn Dance Show will be among the many radio stars at the polio benefit show to be given this Friday night at Barrington. The event will be held at St. Anne's Rose room on Elm st.

Rabbit hunters must be wary

Rabbit hunters can reduce the danger of contracting tularemia if they delay hunting until about a week after the onset of freezing weather, advises Dr. Harlow B. Mills, Chief of the Illinois Natural History Survey.

Studies conducted by Dr. R. E. Yeatter of the Illinois Natural History Survey and Dr. David H. Thompson of the Forest Preserve District of Cook County show that the tularemia hazard is increased both by mild weather early in the hunting season and by high rabbit populations. Dr. Yeatter states that warm weather this fall has tended to delay hibernation of the ticks that spread tularemia among rabbits. With the onset of freezing weather, rabbit ticks go into hibernation and most of the infected rabbits die within a few days. The hunter can then bag rabbits with minimum danger of becoming infected.

Members of the Natural History Survey staff have found that rabbit populations are above average this fall in some parts of the state, particularly in the north central counties. Research indicates that high rabbit populations increase the tularemia hazard and may also increase the virulence of the disease.

Eager hunters can minimize the possibility of contracting tularemia by following the advice of the State Department of Public Health to wear rubber gloves when handling the animals.

ADJUTANTS

An adjutant is a high ranking officer in the U. S. Army, but in India it is a flying garbage collector. The World Book Encyclopedia says it is against the law in India to kill the long-billed birds known as adjutants because they eat the bodies of dead animals.

SHE HAS 12 PAIRS

CHICAGO—Alice Anderson, a typical Chicago career girl, likes shoes. She's shown with 12 pairs, representing the fact that a State Street Council survey of white collar women revealed that the average career girl owns 11.7 pairs of all kinds of shoes. Some of the 1,000 women interviewed to get a representative sampling of the buying tastes of the city's 200,000 career women said they own more beyond the George Washington bridge onto Merritt Parkway, through southern Connecticut, with a stop-over at Waterbury, Conn. Here they spent several days taking in the Eastern Specialty show and Futurity contest, where "our" Elk Grove cover girl, 9 month English Springer Spaniel, took first prize in a class for female puppies under 12 months. While there the Herweges celebrated their 20th wedding anniversary by attending the Springer banquet. Leaving Waterbury, they drove across upper New York state, stopping briefly at Niagara Falls, continuing on around Lake Erie to Detroit, where they paused for a brief visit with their friend, F. Gason.

The Mothers club of Elk Grove school announce that plans have been formulated for a bazaar to be held November 18.

Special features of the evening will be an electrolux vacuum, a Sunbeam Mixmaster and a Toastmaster. There will be free sound movies for children and refreshments can be purchased at nominal prices. Tickets for the dancing, to be sponsored by the school board of District 59, can be purchased at the door.

Funds raised from this event will be used to augment the treasuries of both groups, so that plans for purchase of additional equipment can be fulfilled.

Aid Association For Lutherans Passes $500,000,000 Mark

Within 47 years after receiving its charter from the state of Wisconsin, the Aid Association for Lutherans, a legal reserve fraternal life insurance society, has passed the $500,000,000 mark of insurance in force, according to an announcement made here by its president, Alex. O. Benz.

The Aid Association is one of the leading fraternal life insurance organizations in America, and is also recognized as a leader in the entire institution of life insurance.

The history of the Aid Association is one of remarkable growth. On January 1, 1903, the Association had $759,000 of insurance in force with 607 certificate holders. In 1927, when the Association celebrated its silver anniversary, it had grown to 53,280 certificate holders with $56,640,652 insurance in force and ledger assets amounted to $5,510,375.

Throughout the depression years, the Association's number of certificate holders increased to 148,401, with $21,994,076 ledger assets and $169,300,636 of insurance in force. During the year of 1947, the Association passed the $400,000,000, but two years later, over $500,000,000 of insurance in force has been reached. The Association now has over $114,000,000 in ledger assets, and the number of certificates in force has increased to over 374,000, with 3,125 branches throughout the United States and several provinces of Canada. It has paid in benefits to its members and beneficiaries over $52,000,000.

The field force is divided into 33 general agencies, consisting of 230 district representatives.

During its 47-year history, the A. A. L. has grown from a one-room office to the present five-story office building, which measures 69 feet in height, 140 feet in depth and 67 feet in width. Although the Association utilizes the complete building, including the basement, with the exception of the street floor, more space is required. In December 1948, additional property to the east of the Home Office building was acquired for further expansion.

State funds down

State treasurer Ora Smith has reported the state general revenue fund at the end of October was almost five million dollars less than September and a quarter of a million less than October a year ago.

The fund at the end of the month stood at $168,653,000. Of this amount, $75,000,000 is in investment deposits with banks in Illinois to bring in additional state revenue. The balance is set in various allocations made by the previous general assemblies.

Treasurer Smith also noted decreases in other state funds. The total state funds were $325,169,000 at the end of the month, a decrease of $3,185,000, from September. The total state trust funds were $500,528,000, a decrease of $4,986,000.

While the obligations of the state legislature has resulted in a decrease of the general revenue fund, the four major tax sources of the state showed general increases. During the month these increases over September were: sales tax, $449,000; motor fuel tax, $341,000; motor vehicle licenses, $349,000 and cigarette tax, $289,000. These increases are on only the totals of the taxes paid into the state treasury during October, and do not represent the totals collected by the revenue agencies of the state.

Northwest highway just a wagon lane thru Mt. Prospect 50 years ago; Meyns build first home

Fifty-two years ago this homestead was in the heart of Mt. Prospect's business district, that little wagon lane running in front of the house is the current Northwest Highway.

The residence belonged to the late John Meyn and the picture was taken on the occasion of the christening of William C. Meyn, who still lives in the village. Most of the adults in the picture are deceased, but all the children are still alive, married and probably have grandchildren by now.

MEYN'S HOUSE was the first residence ever built in the village and stood just west of where the K. H. Whitton real estate office now is. It was later moved to Elmhurst rd., across from Busse Motor Sales, where it still stands.

To the left of the house is pictured the Meyn blacksmith shop, that site today being occupied by the Sinclair Service station. Business in the village at that time was limited to John Bauer's tavern and general store, and a feed store and coal yard owned by John C. Moehling.

Commissioner William Busse

The John Meyn family and relatives gathered here 52 years ago to celebrate the christening of William C. Meyn of Mt. Prospect.

built the second homestead in Mt. Prospect, which stood on the corner that is today being excavated for Meeske's new grocery store.

MR. MEYN learned the trade of blacksmithing in Germany and came to this country at the age of 19. In answer to an ad he came to Arlington Heights where he worked with Messrs. Flentje and Flemming. He was prevailed upon to open up his own shop in Mt. Prospect by Mr. Moehling, who built his first shop for him, which stood where the Standard Oil station is now located.

The Meyns had eight children, one of whom died in infancy, and the rest of whom still live in this area. They are: Laura Strauss, Island Lake, Herman William, Mrs. Christina Hodges, Mrs. Elsie Busse, all of Mount Prospect; and John Jr. and Bertha Schulenburg, both of Arlington Heights. Mrs. Meyn died 24 years ago and Mr. Meyn succumbed just two years ago this December. Besides their children they are survived by 18 grandchildren and 19 great grandchildren.

JUST AROUND THE CORNER

Well, Wisconsin certainly outplayed Northwestern, didn't they? That was the only disappointing thing about our week end on N. U.'s campus. That, and seeing the officious Evanston police arrest the owners of out-of-town cars for parking on the grounds of the fraternity houses.

It seems to me the police of Evanston go a little too far when they call the barracks to send out towing trucks to pick up cars when the owners are not on the scene. And when the owners do turn up, just in the nick of time, they are forced to pay a so-called "towing charge" of $5.00 or else have their car taken away, and pay a court charge, as well, later on.

We saw this very thing happen directly in front of the Sigma Nu fraternity house an hour and a half before the game. The police remarked that they had been towing them in all morning and expected to take in many more before the day was over.

Rob, and several other bystanders, pleaded that the owners were from Wisconsin, and asked that a courtesy be extended to them. After all, these cars were parked on the lawn of the fraternity house, and were not a menace to traffic on the street, but the police remained adamant. Either the owner must show up and pay a charge of $5.00 or the car would be towed away. Smacked of high-jacking to us.

But—to the pleasant side of our weekend at N. U.—I don't suppose Numbers three and four sons will ever forget their experiences as the guests of their big brother, Jack. He took them everywhere on the campus. They watched the boys prepare the house decorations and the float that was entered in the Friday night parade. And then, the following morning, they helped clean up the debris. And I do mean mess! The house was a shambles when the "alums" came in after the bonfire. Paint cans, brushes, shovels, picks, miner's hats and John A. Lewis' huge papier-mache head!

One of the "alums" remarked when he saw George and Edward using the vacuum cleaner and dust mop: "they sure pledge them young these days!" (When we were ready to come home we discovered that John L. Lewis' head was occupying the back of the car). That and two miner's caps were rewards to the boys for helping the real "pledges" in the house.

Jack took them to Patten gym Friday afternoon to watch a fencing and wrestling practice. I, also, watched the latter, though only for a short time. It isn't a sport for me. In fact, I am a sponser to Jack participating. I tell him that all he'll ever get out of it is a "big neck." He laughs, and assures me it's a wonderful way to build up muscle. Ah, me!

While waiting for Rob to come out from the city Friday afternoon, I walked around the campus alone, just for the pleasure of contemplating on its beauty. There is something stimulating and inspiring about just looking at "seats of learning," and fortunate are those who can and will learn, not only now, when they are still in school, but during the rest of their lifetime. It is said we never stand still; we either go ahead in our development or go backward.

One thing that impressed me greatly was the sight of many students working at part-time jobs, earning their way through school. The University and the city of Evanston offers many opportunities for students who are zealous for a university education. I think, perhaps, these opportunities are greater for the boys than girls, but I feel reasonably sure that, having the required mental capacity, anyone can get a college degree if they want it badly enough.

Until next week, with love, Mary.

TALES of the STREET

—T. C. HART

● A MEAN PRANK

Sometimes a person wonders if all the things that are being done for the youngsters these days are worthwhile. If all the parties, school activities, youth centers, etc., really accomplish anything that they are supposed to accomplish. Or whether the kids weren't taught more and better manners and more respect for other people's property and such things as that back in the old days before everything on earth was done for the youngsters.

A particularly mean and "lousy" Halloween prank was called to our attention the other day. A little kitten had been soaked with kerosene and urned loose to go home in that condition. The animal was in agony, and it took days of patient care and treatment by the owner to bring the little animal back to anywhere near normal.

Now what pleasure any youngster could get out of playing a prank like that is beyond comprehension. What pleasure could there possibly be in causing pain and suffering to a helpless little kitten? What good do all these things that are being done for the youngsters do if that is the kind of stunts they get pleasure from?

In cases such as this it seems that the best thing to do would be to forget playgrounds, youth centers and the like and bring back the old wood shed with the willow switch or the old hickory paddle.

● Missing Nothing

Another bunch of youngsters we observed on Halloween were not going to miss anything of a good time, but they were really having a good harmless time.

Five youngsters appeared at a friends home all dressed up and washed the night before Halloween with the usual "tricks or treats" greeting as they entered the door. As one friend passed out apples to the kids he commented, "You're kind of early aren't you? Tomorrow is Halloween."

To this one of the youngsters promptly replied, "Tomorrow night we have to go to that thing," meaning the big Lions Club Halloween party for the youngsters.

● DEER HUNTING

Walter Schinkowsky says that those hunters who have been going way up in Canada deer hunting can stay at home after this and bag their game in his back yard. The other morning Walter looked out of his window and saw a nice large deer ambling across the prairie back of his house.

If big game can be bagged right along the banks of Salt Creek with all the comforts of civilization all about, why should a hunter risk the hardships of the northern wilds to get game that can be bagged right here at home. Maybe that deer had heard about some of those Schinkowsky-Heims 16 pound sweet potatoes and was looking for a meal.

● THE COUNTRY LURED HIM

Anton Remenih of the staff of the Chicago Tribune, the man who has written so many fine stories about the people and scenes of this northwest Chicago-land for the Metropolitan section of his newspaper, has located in Arlington Heights and we are glad to welcome him and his family to our midst.

"Tony" always did like this country out here. He also likes the country people and we've known for a long time that he wanted to raise those youngsters in his place besides a city chaff-dwellers apartment. He told the boss to put him on the mailing list, that he had been buying our paper at the newsstand, but his wife wanted the paper mailed so she'd get it right off the bat.

So the lure of the country finally got to Tony, the call of the fresh air, the land and the wide open spaces. It's a great country out here Tony and we're a great people when you get to know us.

● CANADIAN COMMENT

Another of the DePue boys dropped in to visit his brother, Bill, the other day, this one coming from way up in Alberta Canada, instead of the sunny shores of California.

George DePue and his wife were on a little vacation and came across the line for a visit.

When a person hears of some of the taxes the Canadian government has slapped on to their citizens they think that maybe he old USA hasn't been so hard on its people after all.

A person crossing the border is only allowed to take $150 with him, that's the yearly allowance. He can send $10 a month out of the country as a present. When it comes to income tax, rates have been pretty high and profit allowances pretty stiff, but they are moderating somewhat now. A few years back everything over $5,000 was considered excess profit and was taxed at the rate of about 90%.

Those regulations have now been modified so that a profit of about $16,000 can be had before the excess profits tax applies. The basic tax up to $5,000 was considerably higher than in this country. And DePue said that the Canadian farmers were making money and had been for years.

They aren't too happy about the contract price their government has with England for wheat, which price is less than the average market price but they have been doing so well that they aren't hollering too much about that.

Mr. DePue spoke of the vast resources of the Province of Alberta, where he makes his home. Not only is it a great wheat growing Province, but it has also a vast wealth in minerals, natural gas and oil. New oil fields are being brought in around Edmonton that are expected to be among the greatest oil producing fields in the world.

The Province of Alberta is self sufficient, it has about everything it needs right under its own borders.

● HUNTING SEASON

The hunting season is on and the fields will soon be over run with pheasant hunters as the season opens at noon today.

The duck hunters got started last Friday and the reports from the duck hunting grounds down along the Illinois river are to the effect that there are more birds in that area, then there have been for years, and that there should be plenty of ducks for everyone.

Up here in the Northern part of the state an exceptionally dry summer and fall has pretty much dried up the swamps and not much shooting is looked for away from the lake regions.

The pheasant hunters won't open the season with that early morning "cannonading" of years ago, as the season opens at noon November 10. At least that gives the birds a chance to wake up before the shooting starts.

The pheasant season is open to and including November 25. Cock pheasants only, with a bag limit of two per day and with not more than four in any person's possession at any one time during the season.

The rabbit season opens at the same time as the pheasant season and continues to January 15, with a bag limit of eight per day and a possession limit of 16 at any one time.

Many hunters and farmers are saying that the rapid increase of foxes in this area is rapidly depleting the rabbit and pheasant population and that the evidence of their depredations can be seen in the skeletons of rabbits and pheasants that are found in large numbers in the fields and woods.

Some of the nearby counties have a bounty of $5 per head on foxes and it looks as if even metropolitan Cook county might have to place a bounty on the animals in order to protect not only the farmers of the county, but its small wild life as well.

● ATTRACTION

The parking meters seem to have a particular attraction to the little tots, who either like to drop the penny or like to hear the whirr of the machine as it gobbles up he coins.

Several times we have seen a youngster come into possession of a penny and make a bee line for one of those meters, only to be headed off by some parent or older person and steered to some place where they could get some benefit out of their penny, other than the sound of the armless bandit, as it gathered the coin with its hungry jaw.

4-H club film 'The Green Promise' at Arlington Theatre November 12

The current showing of RKO's "The Green Promise," brings to the screen of the Arlington Theatre for the first time the 4-H club story. The picture has been announced good entertainment at the showings at Barrington.

There is a bit of child psychology in the films overlooked by most parents—the child's desire to own something of his own, and to belong to a group that has a program of interest to the early teen-agers. The idea of soil conservation, selfish interests and sinners, is cleverly woven into the plot.

The addition of Walt Disney's "Dumbo" makes this an excellent family billing.

The showing dates are November 10-11-12 with matinees the 10th and 11th.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

by LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

There are only two things that you and I can do with relation to the world in which we live. One is to accept things as they are, the other is to pitch in and try to change them. In spite of this plain fact, most of us enjoy griping about things in general and letting it go at that.

The world, we say when we stop to look around, is going to the dogs. We criticize the morals of our youth, the nations arming to spring at one another's throats, the public schools, the neighbor's children, labor, capital, the churches. Then, having decided that what is wrong with the world today is the fault of other people, selfish interests and sinners, we assume that it is not our fault, and there is nothing we can do about it.

No, we tell ourselves, there is nothing wrong with you and me. We are satisfied to go on living as always—smug, self centered, conceited—never stopping to consider that what is wrong with the world might lie within ourselves.

What we do and are is right. Your temper, my selfishness, another man's immorality—each

Are your children Safe in our school buses?

This is the final of four articles on school bus transportation written by a reporter who was told to find out just how safe is school transportation.

Marvin Plate, of Palatine Transportation Co. watching mothers receive instruction as to bus schedules as driver checks over his route schedule.

Lower picture: Young children are quick to learn that boarding a bus must be made in an orderly manner. It is serious and important business and not a "play stunt."

The material for these articles on safe school bus transportation was gathered from experiences of the Palatine Transportation Co., which handles the children of Palatine Consolidated school district and Palatine high school.

The past week, state police have been following the buses and report that there has been a vast improvement over the actions of motorists passing the Palatine buses.

They attribute the change to the publicity campaign that has been waged by Paddock Publications. Copies of the articles have been sent to Springfield with the suggestion that similar campaigns be waged in all parts of the state.

In place of 200 illegal bus passes in a month, in Palatine area they have fallen to about one a day. These are probably autoists who do not reside in the area served by Paddock Publications and are unfamiliar with the law.

THESE ARTICLES have appeared in all editions of this newspaper and drivers serving other schools report a similar experience.

In the midst of air fatalities, the air companies point to the low percentage of air travelers who are killed.

THE FENCE POST

WILLOW ROAD

This morning as I was returning from church on Willow rd., a thought came to my mind. I wonder if the Herald could help us find a solution about this Dust Bowl road called Willow rd. or Thomas ave. as it is called between Rand and State rd. It should be called Spring and Fall ave. The county grader comes through in the spring and fall. The rest of the year it's forgotten.

There are many people that travel this road, especially on Saturday and Sunday, as it is the shortest way for the Prospect Heights people to go to Arlington Heights.

I wonder if the county commissioner was ever over this road. It would be a very good thing for him to do that one of these nice dusty days.

Last year the residents on Willow rd. sent petitions to the road commissioners asking them to continue the black top on our road but all we got was more chuck holes and dust.

I wonder why the half mile between Route 83 and Schoenbeck was black topped.

THINKS OF HOME

Enclosed is my check for the Arlington Herald for the coming year. I have too many friends and acquaintances in Arlington Heights to try to write each one individually, so will take this means of saying hello.

To my ex-league mates in the Monday and Friday night bowling leagues, I would like to say, am at it again, after an interim of five years or more. We don't have an alley here so travel to Chandler (32 miles) one a week. My average is 168 and is on top in my league. We don't seem to have any good bowlers in this area.

Last of all, I was elected treasurer of a newly formed Kiwanis Club here.

Perhaps, in the coming year, I'll make a trip home. I left in June, 1946, and would like to see some of the changes I have been reading about in the Herald.

The state recognizes its safety responsibility. In addition to paying a large part of the transportation costs, a department of the state police engage in an education safety program as well as prosecution of violators of laws pertaining to bus transportation.

Questions on G. I. bill

Question: While living in Canada, I converted my National Service Life Insurance to a permanent plan. Now I learn that because of Canadian currency controls, I cannot send enough money out of the country to cover my premiums. What can I do about this?

Answer: There have been a number of similar cases. You should contact the currency control office of the country in which you now reside, and if you cannot make a satisfactory arrangement, you should go to the nearest U. S. consulate and explain your problem.

Question: I am a World War II veteran and would like to know if my wife is entitled to VA hospitalization?

Answer: If she is an ex-service woman she will be entitled to hospitalization in her own right, but being the wife of a veteran will not of itself make her eligible for VA hospitalization.

Question: Will the Government pay funeral expenses for a World War I veteran who dies of a non-service-connected disability?

Answer: Funeral expenses, up to $150, will be paid by the Government in the death of any World War I veteran discharged under condition other than dishonorable.

Question: My father is supporting a large family. May I claim him as a dependent while I am in training under the GI Bill?

Answer: Dependency will be held to exist if your father does not have an income sufficient to provide reasonable maintenance for himself and members of his family under legal age, or members of his family otherwise dependent by reason of mental or physical incapacity.

Lustron cancels plans for homes in Park Ridge

A proposed postcard poll of Park Ridge residents to determine whether building permits should be granted for Lustron homes has been called off.

The postcard poll was announced at the last city council meeting when the building committee made a preliminary report of its study of the requests to build three factory-produced porcelain enameled steel homes.

The poll was dropped because Homes of Distinction, Inc., had withdrawn its applications for permits.

Asked why the company had withdrawn, Thomas J. Purcell, vice president, explained that he believed a postcard poll was unfair in that people were asked to vote on something they had not studied and knew about only through whatever publicity—good or bad—it had received. He said his company feels that the city council should study the homes and decide. For that reason he added, the applications have been withdrawn "for the time being."

Ruins of the oldest church in the Americas still stands in Panama. According to the World Book Encyclopedia, the church was built in 1537 and was destroyed in 1671 by the pirate, Henry Morgan, and his band of buccaners.

Isn't America A Wonderful Country!

All over the world today there are people teaching bitterness and hate.

Here in America we have learned to live together in friendship.

For us here at A&P, it has been a wonderful and thrilling experience to get from those with whom we compete day after day such astounding evidence of friendship and respect.

The things that have happened since the anti-trust lawyers from Washington brought suit to destroy A&P have amazed us.

While we sincerely believed that we had earned the friendship of millions of consumers for whom we have provided better food at lower prices, and the friendship of millions of farm families for whom we have provided a better market for their produce, we were not prepared for the avalanche of offers of support.

But most of all, we have to confess that we had underestimated the fine sportsmanship of many of our competitors all over the country.

Can anyone believe that these competitors would rush to our defense if, as the anti-trust lawyers allege, we had been trying to put them out of business?

We and they have fought hard for business.

There are nearly 350,000 individual grocers competing with us. They have a larger share of the nation's grocery business today than they had ten years ago or twenty years ago.

Many of them do as good a job as we do, and they make it plenty tough for us.

Now, day after day, these same competitors are letting us know that they are in our corner.

All we can say is, thank you from the bottom of our hearts.

Isn't America A Wonderful Country!

For that love in her eyes. Get wise, You guys!

Who hollered for Uncle?

Who wants him to break up A&P?

COULD IT BE INDEPENDENT GROCERS? Doesn't seem likely. In ten years America's independent storekeepers almost tripled their business. In 1938 they did just under 5½ billion dollars worth of food business. Last year the independent storekeepers handled over 15 billion dollars worth of food.

WHOLESALE GROCERS? Hardly. For many of them are directly or indirectly engaged in or supporting some form of voluntary or cooperative chain to match chain economies.

THE EMPLOYEES? That would be funny — except that some folks probably believe it. Actually, less than 25 years ago many food chain stores could have paid all expenses — rent, heat, light, wages, etc. — out of the money a store manager alone gets paid now. And the store manager of 25 years ago would have been happy to get what a clerk gets today.

PRODUCERS? Well, take farmers. Certainly part of their prosperity must be attributed to the markets that big chains create for them. The big chains buy the entire pack of many a canner. Those canneries pack the farmers' crops. What would the farmer do with his highly perishable crop if the food chains were eliminated as big volume buyers?

COMPETING CHAINS, MAYBE? No. Practically every chain in the grocery business had more sales last year than the year before. One chain that we know a lot about increased its food business 21% last year and is up 19% in the first eight months of this year.

THEN IT CERTAINLY MUST BE THE PEOPLE! Like fun. If the people hated food chain stores, would they have spent 9½ billion dollars in them last year? Folks like the low prices and high standards of chains — and the better the chains are run, the better folks like them.

Does This Sound as Though We Need Help? Thorofare Super Markets came into existence 10 years ago. The food chains Thorofare replaced were doing about three million dollars worth of business a year. Housewives liked our policies well enough to boost their purchases in our 90 stores to about 30 million dollars a year.

We call that a vote of confidence. And we're going to keep right on proving that as long as we stick to good brands and better-than-average selections at rock-bottom prices, we can compete with anybody in the business. And keep right on growing, too!

We don't believe any chain will be punished for being efficient, or for pleasing housewives so well that it is forced to grow.

We, too, believe that it is a storekeeper's duty to bring the public the best food at the lowest possible prices, and hope to see the chain store way of doing business vindicated.

And as long as the producers, the employees, the customers, the wholesale grocers, the independents and the competing chains thrive so well, we will continue to think it's a good way to do business.

We Don't Want the A&P Put Out of Business

The owner of the undersigned store is an independent merchant in this community. We run our own store, set our own prices, maintain our own policy. We consider the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. as a chain store. Because they are a chain they give us stiff competition. The competition offered by the A&P keeps us on our toes.

The Department of Justice has brought a suit against the A&P claiming that the A&P is a monopoly.

Whether it is or not we are in no position to judge.

What we do know is that the A&P doesn't do all of the grocery business in this area. We are here and ready to serve local customers.

WE DON'T WANT TO SEE THE A&P PUT OUT OF BUSINESS.

The A&P is keeping food prices down. We in turn keep our prices down; and that helps us to sell more goods.

KUGLER'S

I Welcome A&P Competition BECAUSE

- like myself, many hundreds of independent grocers got their start with the TEA COMPANY.
- The great A&P is not detrimental to the progress of the grocery business. On the contrary, A&P has always been beneficial to any open-minded businessman who believes in FREE ENTERPRISE. Founded on the principle of FAIR PLAY and FAIR PRICES, A&P developed from a humble start to its present commanding position in the field of retail merchandising.
- My experience as a former employee of the TEA COMPANY has served me well. I attribute my success to the ideas and methods tried, tested and proven by the A&P stores — at a great cost.
- A&P upholds the rights and privileges of a good worker. I know this from personal experience. A&P is ever on the lookout to promote sincere and ambitious employees to trustworthy and important positions and has never crossed the efforts of any employee to enter into business for himself. A&P helped me to start in business. . . IS THAT AN ACT OF A COMPANY MONOPOLIZING THE GROCERY BUSINESS? NO!

A&P taught me to serve the public BETTER—MORE ECONOMICAL and MORE EFFICIENT, thanks to the start given me by B. F. VINSON.

• During the depression of the thirties, A&P paid higher wages than any other chain. A&P has striven to keep up the standard of living in this country. I shudder to think what would happen to its 110,000 employees if it was forced out of business.

• I am not afraid of A&P competition—I welcome it. It's democratic—it's the American Way.

A&P

We Agree With A&P

Yes, we want our A&P competitors to stay in business on their present scale because we know what it would mean to the American people without them.

We are only one store and are striving to serve our community with good food at low prices, but the A&P is a nationwide organization serving the American people everywhere with good food at low prices.

Destroying the A&P would mean eliminating competition nationally in the food field which every poor man knows consumes the major portion of his salary.

We congratulate the A&P for a job well done. Keep up the fight.

We welcome any fair competition which helps us bring lower food prices to the consumer.

A COMPETITOR'S OPINION of The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co.

The self-styled "trust busters" of the government recently made headlines as a result of a move to destroy the A&P.

Frankly, we don't like it. A&P is charged with having control of SOME of the production and processing ends of the food business. As a result, they can offer foods at low prices.

So What . . .

And if monopoly of the food business is charged, that sure hands us a laff. We . . . at P.P.M. are growing like wildfire. Seems like we're able to sell better foods at better prices.

Your increasing patronage of our stores is positive proof that A&P has no monopoly on the food business. Let's get down to good old American horse sense. A&P is doing a good job of serving the people of this country. They're no bogey men. We are for them 100% in this controversy.

At Northwestern

A total of 10,100 full-time students have enrolled for study this fall on Northwestern University's Evanston and Chicago campuses. The figure includes 894 students from northern Illinois.

The largest enrollment of any of the schools is in the College of Liberal Arts, where more than 2,600 students have registered. The School of Commerce totals almost 2,000 students, with 1,475 of that total on the Evanston campus.

Northwestern's veteran enrollment has passed its peak, according to Chester E. Willard, coordinator of veterans' education at the University. A year ago the veterans comprised approximately 50 per cent of the full-time enrollment, and this fall they have dropped to about 40 per cent. Most of that number are well along in their college careers, and less than 10 per cent of Northwestern's new students are under the G. I. Bill.

Radio stars on polio benefit show Friday night at Barrington

Lee Bennett, WGN radio and television star, and Red Blane, show of the WLS Barn Dance show, will headline the entertainment at the polio benefit party in Barrington Friday evening, Armistice day, November 11. The event will be held at St. Anne's Rose room on El-street, sponsored by the Woman's Relief Corps and the Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Mrs. Virginia Korinek, daughter of the late Elmer Sigwalt who was a resident of Arlington Heights, is general chairman of the benefit project, assisted by co-chairman, Mrs. Atho Peritt, resident of the Woman's Relief Corps, and Mrs. Georgiana Miller, who heads the Auxiliary.

Other entertainment features of the evening will include local talent: Roger Shales at the marimba, William Bethke at the solovix and Kit Lash, who will present a reading. The early part of the evening will be devoted to cards, and after the program there will be dancing highlighted by a waltz contest. The Musical Marions, a 16-piece orchestra directed by John Yaccina of Des Plaines, will supply the dance music. Prizes and refreshments will be added attractions.
Proceeds of the party will benefit patients in the polio wards at St. Joseph's and Sherman hospitals at Elgin.

Don't wait until you can build that dream house to enjoy the beauty of modern indirect cove lighting.

New portable cove lighting units which give the appearance of modern built-in lighting now make it possible to modernize the lighting in your present home with a minimum of effort and expense.

Available in lengths up to 12½ feet, these cove lighting units are simple enough for the average household handyman to install. As shown in the sketch above, these cove fixtures are ideal in dining rooms, in living rooms, bedrooms or wherever a continuous line of smooth light is wanted.

Sturdily constructed, the coves have a luminous face plate of plastic-like material which is easily cleaned with a damp cloth.

For best lighting results, General Electric lighting specialists recommend mounting the cove fixtures at least 12 inches from the ceiling in order to allow the light to spread evenly and to avoid a harsh line of light which may result when the unit is mounted too close to the ceiling.

Gems of thought*EDUCATION

To know the laws of God in nature and revelation, and then to fashion the affections and will into harmony with those laws—this is education.

The first consideration a wise and wherein it consists; the next is of the most proper means to that end.

A heap of ill-chosen erudition

HOBBIES--yours and mine

by BETTY AINSLIE

Day by day in every way I'm discovering some really different and worthwhile hobbies. Take for example Mrs. H. J. Johnson of 111 S. Owen st., Mt. Prospect, she transcribes into Braille books and manuscripts for blind students.

"I really don't want to be mentioned in connection with this work," declared busy Mrs. Johnson. "There are so many of us doing this transcribing that I certainly don't want any credit, but if an explanation of my work might be the means of getting others interested that is really the main thing."

And so here is hoping hat someone reading this will be interested and offer their services to this very worthy cause. Just apply for information at Illinois
Federation of Women's Clubs,
Braille Transcribers Club at 30
West Washington in Chicago.

MRS. JOHNSON has been doing this work since 1936. In the beginning she was instructor of Braille at the Rogers Park Women's Club and chairman of the department which worked for the Red Cross. But it seems that during the war the Red Cross discontinued the Braille part of its services and so the Braille Transcribers Club was formed and she was made a charter member. Later on this last spring in fact, she was elected president of this group of women who fill requests for material in Braille from blind people free of charge.

"One interesting thing we did was transcribe a telephone directory for a blind veteran who needed the directory in newspaper work he was doing.

All through the interview Mrs.
Johnson maintained she herself wanted no publicity, she was merely interested in showing others what a thrill can be had from doing this service. Anyone who did Red Cross work during the war and now has spare time might be interested in Braille work.

ANY FRIDAY you can receive lessons free of charge in Braille at Federation headquarters and it really doesn't take long to learn to do this transcribing

work.

"I really don't need any thank you for the work," Mrs. Johnson smiled. "We get all our thanks from the happiness we're able to give to these blind people."

This group has transcribed a Spanish dictionary for a blind student. Right now Mrs. Johnson is working on a law book for a law student. They naturally don't transcribe all the textbooks, merely those that will be useful to the student even after graduation. They also do books for Chicago public schools and many of these handicapped youngsters learn to read through the efforts of this group.

Another service, too, that this club offers is to teach mothers of blind children Braille so they can assist their youngsters to read.

I believe Mrs. Johnson does deserve a big orchid for all her work and here is a hobby that will give you that lovely glow and satisfaction of doing something really important for people who do so completely appreciate your efforts.

Modern Etiquette

by ROBERTA LEE

Q. How should an engraved invitation to a home wedding be worded?
 A. It may read thusly: "Mr. and Mrs. John Howard request the pleasure of your company at the marriage of their daughter, Margaret Amy, to Mr. Frederick Sprague on Tuesday afternoon, the twenty-fourth of October at four o'clock, twenty-two West End Avenue."
 Q. When accompanying two women along a street, where should the man place himself?
 A. He should not sandwich himself between them, but take the outside of the walk, the same as with one woman.
 Q. Should the knife be used to put the butter on a baked potato?
 A. No; it is better to use the fork.
 Q. If a person to whom you have just been introduced departs with the statement, "I am very glad to have met you," what should you reply?
 A. A sincere smile and a spoken "thank you" are all necessary. You needn't reiterate, "I am glad to have met you, too," as some people are prone to do.
 Q. Are the attendants and members of a wedding party obligated to call on the bride and bridegroom after the wedding?
 A. Yes, this is an obligatory call. They should do this as soon as the newly-married couple are "at home" to their friends.
 Q. Is it correct for a man to use the double-sheet type of stationery for his personal correspondence?
 A. It is all right, but the single sheet is considered more masculine.
 Q. Is it obligatory for a bride to entertain those friends who have given her wedding gifts?
 A. It is not exactly obligatory, but surely a bride would wish to entertain all her friends. At any rate, she must write those sincere "thank you" notes for the gifts received.
 Q. Is it ever proper for a hostess at dinner to call attention to the fact that one of her guests is eating very little?
 A. A little after five o'clock, Mrs. Horenberger was worried about her husband because he had not come in for the milking and asked her son, Ray, Jr., who had just come home from helping a neighbor, to go with her to look for him.

 Mr. Horenberger was still hanging in the picker with the tractor and machinery still operating. He was extricated with some difficulty.
 He was rushed to Woodstock hospital where three fingers and a part of the index finger were removed.

Caught in picker; farmer waits for over two hours
 Ray Horenberger, 43, of the Twin Maples Farm, West McHenry, stood with his right hand caught in a cornpicker for more than two hours last week before someone arrived to aid him. Somehow he kept from fainting with pain and waited until help came. If he had lost consciousness, he would have fallen into the picker.
 Mr. Horenberger estimated that it was about three o'clock when he got out to clear a cob from the picker. The dry corn of this year has caused a great deal of plugging in the pickers. His right hand caught in the roller and was inexorably pulling him into the machinery. With one foot he managed to get a wrench out and thrust into the roller, but he could not remove his hand.
 A little after five o'clock, Mrs. Horenberger was worried about

with JAN KRAMER
 How much does a man owe to his own integrity?
 When Editor Ed Masterson fires Herbert Katzman for submitting material Katzman does not believe in to the weekly news magazine Present Day, the editorial staff tries to fight back. A moral issue is at stake. These men have sold their talent to the highest bidder, and write what they are bid. Must they also believe what they write?

The Big Wheel is a short vigorous stab at the answer. Writing his first novel in a fluent journalistic style, John Brooks introduces the reader to the thirty-ninth floor editorial offices through Dick Peters, a young newspaperman who is hired to work on the magazine.
 He is a cousin and friend of the Editor and thus has both a personal and business view of Masterson's policies, and staff reactions to them. The picture of Masterson, the quietly dominant and respected, yet fanatical editor, that gradually emerges is the most interesting characterization in the book.
 When Katzman is fired, contrasting moral standards are aired. Dick's plea "We're appealing on the old American principles of free thought and free right to work" cannot be reconciled with "How can what Present Day prints be the truth, if the men who write it don't believe it themselves?" Straddling the fence is Henry La Pointe who believes what is convenient for him to believe.
 This is a depressing book because its subject is a discouraging one. The task of developing other people's ideas to meet a deadline is full of tension and strains. Ill humor grinds its way down through the editorial staff. As more people work for others, different angles of this problem are becoming more evident. How much does a man owe to himself? is a social novel. The Big Wheel is worth the evening it takes to read it.

Announce election dates to name committee to run 1950 farm program

The annual election of farmer Production and Marketing Administration committee (formerly AAA) to administer the 1950 farm program in Cook County will be held during the period Nov. 14 to 25, Mr. Bormet, chairman of the present county PMA committee, announced.

This statement was following receipt of instructions from Lee M. Gentry, chairman of the Illinois State PMA Committee, that elections would be held by community meetings throughout the State during the latter part of November.

Eligible voters in each community will elect three regular community committeemen and two alternate members in addition to a delegate and an alternate delegate to the county convention, which will convene November 29th for the purpose of selecting a 1950 county committee.

THESE COMMITTEEMEN are responsible for the local administration of such programs as Agricultural Conservation, loans and purchase agreements, allotments and others—all of which affect each and every farmer.

According to Mr. Bormet, any producer who is taking part in the Agricultural Conservation Program or is eligible for a loan or other price support, or has entered into a Federal Crop Insurance contract, is eligible to cast a vote. "This," he said, "includes practically all farm producers, owners and tenants alike."

A listing of the time and place for voting in each community is now being prepared by the county office and will be announced in the near future. In addition to this an individual notice of the election is being mailed to each and every known eligible voter. Chairman Bormet emphasized that every effort will be made on the part of the county committee to properly inform farmers of the election and to secure a record-breaking vote.

A MEMBER or representative of the county committee will be present at each election meeting to discuss current program operations.

In emphasizing the importance of taking part in the election, Mr. Bormet advised of the need for maintaining a strong farm program. He pointed to the committee system as a unique and important feature of a good program. "It is through this system," he said, "that farmers have an opportunity not only to influence program provisions but also to actually administer such programs on a local basis. A large and intelligent vote is the best means of preserving and strengthening this system. It is highly essential that the best men in each community are elected to fill these responsible positions."

Illinois custom sprayers' school set for January

The second annual Custom Spray Operators' school at the University of Illinois will be held January 17-18-19, 1950, on the campus in Urbana.

Again this year the conference is sponsored by the Illinois College of Agriculture, the Illinois Natural History Survey, and the University of Illinois Institute of Aviation. Two new cooperating groups this year are the Illinois Commercial Ground Spray Operators' association and the Illinois Association of Aerial Applicators. Both groups were organized during last year's custom sprayers' school.

These five groups are now planning the program, which should be announced about December 1. They are considering some 15 topics ranging from rat clover seed insect control to phloem necrosis and brush control.

THE CONFERENCE is open to both ground and airplane sprayers without charge, according to H. B. Petty, general chairman and extension entomologist in the College of Agriculture and Natural History Survey. More than 350 persons attended the 1949 meeting.

The school is set up to pass along all the latest recommendations of various research agencies to custom operators and to give them the best possible opportunity to keep posted on latest developments in their work. Petty urges those interested to make their hotel reservations immediately. You can get full details from H. B. Petty, 38 Natural Resources Building, University of Illinois, Urbana, Ill.

Adequate Wiring System Is Needed To Help Operate Electrified Farm

By IRA MILLER
Farm Electrification Bureau

Farmers aren't the only ones who have wiring problems. City folk have them too. The difference is that the farmer bears a double load. For he is concerned, not only with his home, but with his "food factory" as well.

The first rule of adequate farmstead

Here is one way of serving the farmstead. Meters also may be located on buildings or, on occasion, inside buildings when the greater part of the load is located in one structure.

Wiring is a distribution system which provides enough electricity to meet all power and lighting needs. And they are varied and many. Farm wiring takes careful planning. For farmers must consider both future and present electrical requirements. To plan ahead is wise economy, since it costs less to do the job right the first time.

Distribution systems, generally, must be "tailored" to "fit" individual farms.

They may be above or underground. And meters may be located outdoors or inside buildings. Usually, however, they are placed as near as possible to the center of the ultimate electrical load on the farm. This is in the interest of economy and provides greater assurance that electric service will be adequate at all points where it is needed.

A skimpy wiring system never pays. No farmer runs his tractor without sufficient fuel. Electricity, too, is a fuel and electrical equipment must be "well fed" to perform satisfactorily. Such equipment is "fed" through wires. Wires, which are too small, will "starve" your electrical machinery. So, get them big enough; man-size for a man-size job.

Aside from heavy enough wires, be sure that your wiring system has a service entrance of ample size; enough circuits, each with the proper wire size; individual circuits for range, water heater and larger motors, and plenty of properly located outlets and switches. Also make certain that your system can be expanded easily and that it is installed by one who understands farm electric lighting and power requirements. Safety in wiring depends on having your system installed in compliance with the National Electrical Code. For special circuits, serving motor loads, circuit breakers or fuses, should be based on electrical loads served.

An adequate wiring system is the key to better farming. A properly engineered wiring job will help you get the most out of your equipment. Electrical devices for home and production use are designed to save time and labor, to reduce production costs and to make farm living easier and more convenient. They can achieve these objectives—if good wiring gives them the chance to operate efficiently.

LAW on the FARM

Public records

Although the county recorder's office is the main repository for deeds and other instruments affecting farm real estate, there are other county officers charged with the responsibility of maintaining specified records of interest to farm people. For example, the county clerk maintains these records:

Estate and probate—including all wills, dockets, bonds, letters testamentary, appointments of administrators and executors, decrees of heirship, inventories, and appraisements.

Tax—including a list of all taxable properties and entries necessary to show the amount and status of tax claims against each.

Drainage, death, birth, marriage, adoption, brands, burial certificates, estray, guardian appointments and list of commissioned notaries.

These records are all open to public inspection during regular business hours under such reasonable regulations as the responsible officer may prescribe.

Only instruments that have been authorized by law and properly made out are entitled to registration. Likewise the registration of a forged or faulty document gives it no validity.

When records are lost or destroyed, certified copies are given the same effect as the original. If there are no certified copies, documents may be reestablished and re-recorded through procedure set out by law.

Legumes may cause sore mouth in cattle

A University of Illinois veterinarian says legumes make good fall pastures, but they also can cause sore mouth in your cattle. Dr. G. T. Woods says several outbreaks of sore mouth, also named stomatitis, have occurred in Illinois cattle herds this fall. Although the exact cause of sore mouth is not known, it usually occurs when cattle graze on wet clover or alfalfa pasture and then stand in bright sunlight.

Symptoms of sore mouth, which often look like symptoms of other diseases, include a crusty muzzle, saliva drooling from the mouth, and a swollen, protruding tongue. White-skinned animals often have areas of scaly skin.

Dr. Woods urges cattlemen to consult their veterinarian if signs of disease appear in their herds. If it is sore mouth, prompt removal from the legume pasture and treatment by the veterinarian will help to save even the seriously affected animals.

Pay well to get the right man to run farm

If you're a farm owner and expect to run your place with hired help and maybe work elsewhere yourself, "I suggest that you get a high-grade man and pay him accordingly—perhaps $100 to $150 a month with all the trimmings and a bonus based on production of one or more of the main farm products."

That's essentially the answer J. B. Cunningham, farm tenancy specialist in the Illinois College of Agriculture, gave to a man who said he expected to farm 280 acres starting next March 1. He planned to raise hogs or beef cattle and wanted to hire a man full time to help him. He would furnish the man a house, lights, telephone, some meat, and chickens. But he wondered what wage to pay whether or not to offer an incentive bonus, and how many extras to furnish.

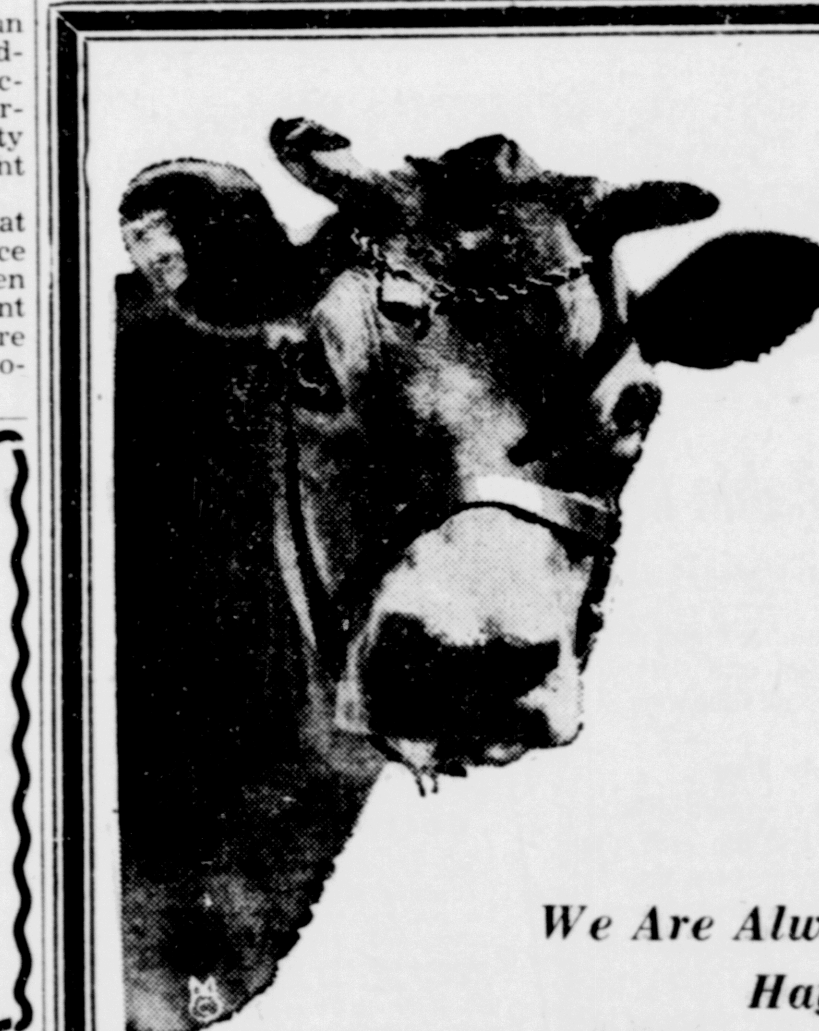

CUNNINGHAM says that by trimmings he means a modern house, milk, meat, feed for poultry, and so on. He also suggested a bonus in addition to these items and cash wages. The bonus might be three to five cents for every bushel of corn raised or $1 to $2 for every pig weaned.

Unless you get a competent manager-operator, Cunningham advises, you'll probably be much better to rent your farm under a crop-share-cash or a livestock-share farm lease. You can get forms for these types of leases at your farm advisers' offices.

As for wages, find out what the neighbors are paying or ask the farm adviser about going rates.

Wettest Spot

The world's wettest spot is along the Assam hills in northeast India. There, observes the National Geographic society, the rain-carrying monsoons, or winds, from the west and southwest meet those blowing northward over the Bay of Bengal. Together they release a deluging rainfall that amounts of 50 or 60 feet a year, compared with a higher-than-average rate in the United States of only 50 inches.

Naperville Herefords to compete in show

Rolling Meadow Farm, Naperville, will have four head of Herefords in the cattle classes of the coming 50th anniversary International Live Stock Exposition which is set for November 26 through December 3 in the Chicago Stock Yards.

An early tally of entries for the Exposition indicates the show will be larger this year. W. E. Ogilvie, secretary manager, anticipates the biggest cattle exhibition ever staged in the United States. He states this is largely due to increased premiums this year.

In addition to eight days of individual livestock classes, there will be the Meat Show, judging contests, 4-H Club parade, the shearing contest and score of other events.

Legion warns against racketeers pursuing former POWs

Lester R. Benston, state rehabilitation director of the American Legion, sounded two warning notes to veterans.

He called attention to reports from the War Claims Commission and national headquarters of the Legion that racketeers are operating in the guise of helping veterans in filing prison-or-of-war claims.

Under the War Claims Act of 1948, military personnel held prisoner in any theater and certain U. S. civilians who were interned of the Japanese may be entitled to compensation for their confinement.

Benston said evidence was increasing that individuals and groups of persons have been established to help claimants — at a price — and have originated names which easily might be confused with the War Claims Commission.

Presently, no forms of any kind have been issued by the Commission, Benston said. It is expected that forms will be available late this month. They then can be obtained free from the Veterans Administration, from American Legion offices and other veterans' groups.

The rehabilitation director emphasized that no claims will be processed for payment unless they are submitted on official forms issued by the Commission. There will be no filing fee and the forms are expected to be simple enough so that no assistance will be needed in completing them.

Congressman Church cites poor, muddled record of Congress

"I do not believe there has ever been a session of Congress when there has been so much uncertainty, so much confusion and utter lack of direction," said Congressman Ralph E. Church, of Evanston, on the floor of the House as the Congress prepared to adjourn sine die.

Mr. Church took the position that practically the only thing accomplished by the session was that "it has succeeded in putting the country in a precarious financial situation" by "all-high expenditures and unbalancing the budget." He pointed out that during the session the "total expenditures, including contract authorizations, amounted to around $50,992,000,000."

"It is understandable," said Congressman Church, "why we are faced with graver problems than faced us when we assembled last January. Our national leadership has based every decision, every recommendation, every appointment and every statement on its political effect rather than sound principle."

First Bootleggers

The Tuscarora Indians of North Carolina were among the first bootleggers, carrying forbidden rum to tribes of the interior, and selling it by the mouthful. The purchaser hired the tribesman with the biggest mouth as his scale, the mouth-man spewing the rum into a bowl brought along as a receptacle.

Truck gardeners ask new zoning provision for taverns
A proposal to amend Cook county's zoning laws with respect to the section placing "business, tavern and amusement" in a single classification was referred this week by the County Board to its zoning specialists for study and recommendation.
Last month, the Cook County Truck Gardeners' and Farmers' Association, of Des Plaines, forwarded to the board a resolution calling for a change in Section 10 of the zoning law. It asked that the class be more specifically subdivided as many enterprising and injurious to surrounding property or objectionable to adjacent residents.
The resolution was sent by the association's secretary, Elmer J. Steil, urging the amendment be made.
At the county board meeting this week, Walter T. Popjoy, representing the Zoning Board of Appeals, said that his agency had the matter under consideration for more than a year. It would require public hearings to be held in every township in the county before the amendment could go through, he added.

NU prof says atomic lls not bad as billed
The peril of atomic radiation following an atom bomb blast isn't as great as generally believed, a Northwestern University engineering professor said.
The Northwestern faculty man reported, too, that the dangers of contamination from radioactive material or from disposal of industrial atomic wastes are also exaggerated.
Lewis H. Kessler, professor of sanitary engineering, said, "I doubt if civilization or life on this planet is to be wiped out by A-bombs."
Admitting that while a single well-located bomb can mean the annihilation of an entire city or community, he said, however, that "the penetrating rays that create physiological disturbances did not present a hazardous condition of long duration at Hiroshima."
There, where 250,000 died, only about 15 per cent succumbed because of atomic radiation and resulting sickness.
Prof. Kessler declared that one of the greatest hazards of an atomic explosion is the flash fire which follows in its wake. Other deaths predominately result from fractures and from bruises and lacerations caused by flying debris and collapse of buildings.
"The best defense appears to be to keep all bombs from being dropped either by mutual agreement or military defense and restrain saboteurs from placing bombs in any of our important cities."
"If this cannot be accomplished, thickness of earth, thick concrete or metals, and distance are the only defenses left. People are not going to move into underground cities, and I doubt if 50 per cent dispersion of population to reduce density per square mile will ever be accomplished in our time," he added.
The Northwestern professor believes that the U. S. will learn to live with radiation. He told delegates to the Waterworks Institute that the problems of industrial use of atomic energy will be solved.
"I am sure there will be a good deal of shock, at first, as we get used to handling vast stock piles of radioactive substances. However, I am confident that by virtue of our intelligence we will succeed."

Words Often Misused
Do not say, "He walks just like his father." Say, "He walks just as his father does."
Do not say, "Numerous books were on the table." Say, "Many books were on the table." Numerous means a very great number, and its use in most cases is an exaggeration.
Remit is not a general substitute for send. In commercial usage, remit means "to send back," such as money in payment of an account.
Do not say, "That there child spoke to me." Say, "That child there," or merely, "That child."
Do not say, "He claims that the speaker was wrong." It is much better to say, "He maintains (or, asserts) that the speaker was wrong."
One remembers many things at all times, but makes a conscientious effort to recollect a certain thing. "I remember Helen's party," but I cannot recollect the names of certain guests.

Colleen Moore's "Doll House," now on exhibit at the Museum of Science and Industry, will eventually become a permanent acquisition of the Museum, according to an announcement from the former movie actress, Mrs. Homer Hargrave in private life. Mrs. Hargrave revealed that she has provided for this by a change in her will.
"Although the Doll House has now been on display for only a week, we already consider it one of our most important exhibits because of its tremendous appeal," said Major Lenox R. Lohr, Museum president. "Our steadily rising attendance has shown that it is largely a problem of getting people here the first time. From then on, they are steady visitors. The expression "earning your salt" is by no means a modern term, but has a deep-rooted heritage. The World Book Encyclopedia relates that salt was once so scarce and precious that it was used as money. Caesar's soldiers received a part of their salary in common salt. The word salary comes from the Latin word sal — meaning salt.

Valued at $435,000, the Doll House, in reality a fairyland castle which began as a childhood hobby of Miss Moore, has been exhibited during the past 14 years in 260 major American cities, where it has been seen by more than 15,000,000 people. Its showing at the Museum is the first time that no admission charge is made.
